Sunday Services at 8:30am and 10:30am

If you have been following along in our "Way" sermon series, you know that we have been focusing on what it looks like to follow the "Jesus Way" in our every day lives. You might also be tempted to think that following Jesus on the Way is an individual endeavor. This week's message will pick up where we left off last week, the start of the Sermon on the Mount. In Matthew 5:13-16, Jesus shows us that "The Way" is not only a call to individual spiritual disciplines but rather sends us to be "Salt and Light" in our often bland and dark world. As we explore the meaning of being called out as "Salt and Light", my hope is that your journey on the "Way" can become richer, deeper, and more authentic. The following reflection questions can help you grow deeper in your journey of following Jesus 'on the Way'.

1. What does Jesus' call for us to be 'salt' in the world mean for your life right now? How is He calling you to be 'salt' this week in your life?
2. What is Jesus saying to you when he commands us to not let our 'salt' become 'seasonless'?
3. What does Jesus' call to be 'light' in the world mean for your life right now? Name a dark place where you sense Him sending you into bearing His light?
