ENCOURAGED

It is such a blessing to know that God is at work regardless of my physical location. He has graciously allowed me to continue ministry online while I wait on paperwork. I have also been able to spend some time with family and friends over the past several weeks. I am especially excited to attend a Thrive Ministry virtual retreat on Thursday and Friday. Pray that God will touch my heart as we explore the topic of soul care. Thanks so much!!

HOLDING PATTERN

Excitement builds as you near your destination. After many hours on a plane, you can hardly wait to finally disembark. The pilot's announcement quickly brings you down to earth or should I say keeps you firmly planted in midair. Due to a large amount of traffic, you are required to remain in a holding pattern unable to land until those planes ahead of you have safely arrived on the tarmac.

I am currently in a holding pattern myself. I am still waiting for my renewed US passport. When I turned in paperwork, I was informed that I should allow up to 18 weeks for delivery. It has been over 14 weeks now. I am waiting my turn as over 2 million passports were in line when I applied in July.

IN THE MEANTIME

Thursday evening Bible studies continue to be the highlight of my week. One of the ladies shared that she has been listening to a Biblically based podcast in addition to her audio Bible. Another has purchased a study Bible and has been sharing insights from it. It is a huge encouragement to hear how the ladies are spending time in God's Word outside of our weekly study.
