GIVING IT UP! GIVING UP CONTROL

Genesis 2:15-17; 3:1-7

Matthew 4:1-11

During our Lenten season this year, I will be preaching a series on “Giving it up” to encourage us to reflect and adjust our life toward God. The goal of this series is to lead us toward a deeper relationship with God through Christ, so we can be better disciples and a better person to those around us.

1. Compare and contrast these passages. Discuss your thoughts on how they are different and how reading them together may deepen our understanding of living for God.
2. What does it mean to give up control, especially in terms of our relationship with God?
3. What are key steps to releasing control and letting God take control?
4. Why is giving up control so hard for us?
Is giving up control the same as giving up?
5. Where have you seen the most growth in your life recently?
6. Where have you struggled the most in your life?
Explain how you believe surrendering to God will help you overcome your struggle.

God bless,
Daryl

Need Some Help?

The men of First Methodist Church are available to assist with small jobs for anyone in our congregation who may need a helping hand.

The church office maintains a list of volunteers who are ready to serve.

To make a request, please contact the church office at 229-924-3169.

Carry each other's burdens, and in this way you will fulfill the law of Christ.

A MIGHTY FORTRESS IS OUR GOD

1529

God is our refuge and strength, a very present help in trouble. Psalm 46:1

We think of Martin Luther as a great reformer, Bible translator, political leader, fiery preacher, and theologian. But he was also a musician, having been born in an area of Germany known for its music. There in his little Thuringian village, young Martin grew up listening to his mother sing. He joined a boys' choir that sang at weddings and funerals. He became proficient with the flute (recorder), and his volcanic emotions often erupted in song.

When the Protestant Reformation began, Luther was determined to restore worship to the German Church. He worked with skilled musicians to create new music for Christians, to be sung in the vernacular. He helped revive congregational singing and wrote a number of hymns.

Often he "borrowed" popular secular melodies for his hymns, though occasionally a tune brought criticism and he was "compelled to let the devil have it back again" because it was too closely associated with bars and taverns.

In the forward of the book, Luther once wrote: "Next to the Word of God, the noble art of music is the greatest treasure in the world." Luther's most famous hymn is "Ein' feste Burg ist unser Gott," – A Mighty Fortress Is Our God." Based on Psalm 46, it reflects Luther's awareness of our intense struggle with Satan. In difficulty and danger, Luther would often resort to this song, saying to his associate, "Come, Philipp, let us sing the 46th Psalm."

This is a difficult hymn to translate because the original German is so vivid. At least 80 English versions are available. The most popular in America was done by Frederic Henry Hodge. But an older version appeared in the Pennsylvania Lutheran Church book of 1868:

*A mighty fortress is our God, | A trusty Shied and Weapon;
He helps us free from every need, | That hath us now o'ertaken.*

The British version of "A Mighty Fortress" is Thomas Carlyle's translation:
*A safe stronghold our God is still, | A trusty shield and weapon;
He'll help us clear from all the ill | That hath us now o'ertaken*
