“A bound cord, rope, or thread cannot only be seen with the eyes, but it is something one can grasp hold of with their hands. In other words, hope is something real enough that we can cling to it. Hope is not something out of our reach.

We must think about that tangible woven cord that was plaited just for us. Perhaps this is the very reason Rahab’s cord was the color red or scarlet. It is to remind us of our scarlet sins and the scarlet blood that washes them clean, white as snow.”

‘Hatikvah’ (The Hope)

ENGLISH TRANSLATION

As long as the heart within the Jewish soul yearns forward toward the East, an eye looks to Zion, our hope is not yet lost. Our hope is two thousand years old: To be a free people in our land, the land of Zion and Jerusalem

Scarlet Thread

Before God created the world,

He planned to redeem mankind from its fall into sin. From the promise of Genesis 3:15 to the sacrifices offered as a covering from sin, God's Word points forward to Jesus. This scarlet thread—the plan of mankind's redemption—is one that God has woven into the fabric of history. It is a reminder throughout Scripture that Jesus Christ—the Savior—would come to pay the penalty for sin.
