Welcome, Welcome!

After months of hard work, a mountain of effort by an army of volunteers, and a solid partnership with Love Columbia, we are excited to welcome the first family into our Danny Coleman Memorial Transformation Home!

Shereka Leverett and her children, Belle, Rosalyn, and Creed, along with Shereka's mother, Shirley, will move in next week. The Leverett family is an answer to our prayers, and you will enjoy getting to know them just as much as Shayla, Jessie, Kelley, and I have over the past month. We do not doubt that their time with us will be good for their family and every bit as good for our congregation. Please join me in warmly welcoming the Leverett family to Midway Locust Grove!

Likewise, after many months of searching, processing countless resumés, and interviewing many candidates, we are pleased to announce that our Pastor Parish Relation Committee has hired a full-time Administrative Assistant. Catherine Shanahan is an answer to our prayers and comes to us with a wealth of experience in administrative work. Louise, Jim, Roger, and I are highly impressed with her and have every confidence you will be too.

Once we complete the onboarding process, Catherine will run our office, which will be open 8:30 am - 4:30 pm, Monday through Friday. In addition to office administration, she will be the first point of contact for members, guests, and the general public, fielding all questions, comments, and concerns. She will also serve as a quarterback of sorts, ensuring that all incoming information is distributed through the proper channels to the appropriate people. Catherine's organizational skills, and attention to detail, will be an incredible gift to our congregation. Please join me in warmly welcoming Catherine to Midway Locust Grove!

A lot is going on around here. Most days, it feels like we are trying to take a sip of water from a fire hydrant. Yet in it all, through it all, God is so faithful. The Leverett family, and Catherine Shanahan, are living proof. Welcome, welcome, to Midway Locust Grove!

Option 2: Punch Card - Designated number of attractions per person. Guests can choose between a round of mini golf, a go-kart ride, 4 batting cage tokens, a medium bucket of driving range balls, a round of foot golf, or a round on the par 3 course.

2 Attractions=$13/person

3 Attractions=$19.50/person

4 Attractions=$26.00/person

FOOD & BEVERAGE:

No outside food or drinks may be brought in. You may order pizza, hot dogs, snacks, ice cream, and beverages at their concession stand or go in and have a meal at 44 Tavern.

We had to give them a rough head count by Wednesday, August 2. If you plan to go, please contact me immediately with the number of people we can expect, and we will add you to our tally! What better way to send summer out with a bang than food, fun, and fellowship with your church family? We sure hope you can make it!

Peace, Ben

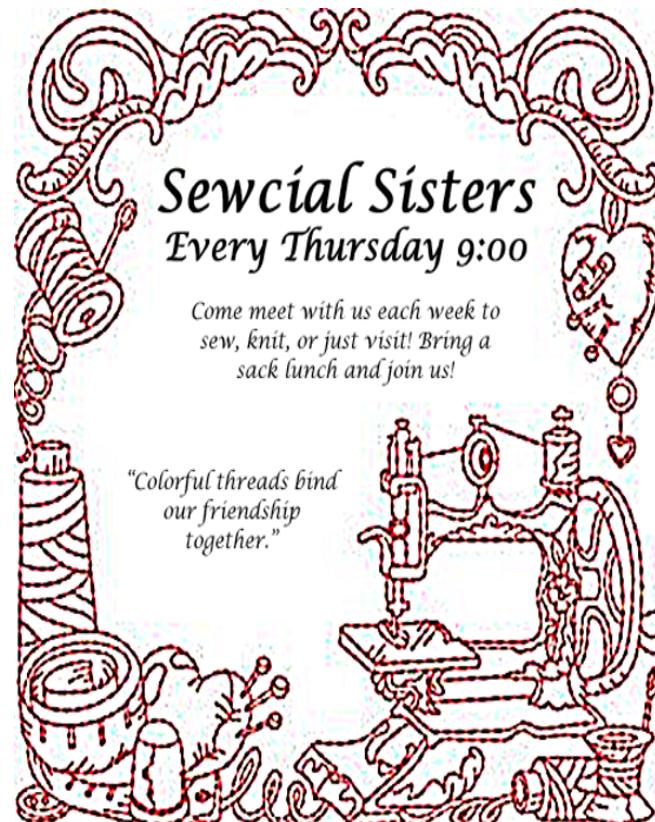

TREASURY NOTES

By Nedra Moreau

Contributions during July were a little off the normal receipts, totaling about $17,000. Hopefully, this is due to summer vacations and other things happening. I am confident things will pick up as school starts and other things move back to more normal.

We are doing well with the Firm Foundation challenge, both with the work being done and the funds and pledges received. It is exciting to think the sanctuary will soon be done and we can move back into it. However, we still need more gifts and pledges in order to fully meet the financial challenge.

Please continue to pray for our church as we work toward our financial goals. Thanks to everyone for all you are doing!

Kudos

We are so proud of our granddaughter, Ellie Lichte. She ran track at the Show Me Games Track & Field Event. She placed 1st in the 1-mile and 1st in the 2-mile! She is quite the runner, and seems to love doing it (don't know where she gets that gene!!). She also ran Cross Country at the Show Me Games and placed 1st for her age group, and came in 6th for all runners under the age of 20. She will be in the 7th grade at Lexington Middle School and plans to run cross country and track.

Mission Retreat June 30-July 3

“Don’t be selfish; don’t try to impress others. Be humble, thinking of others as better than yourselves. Don’t look out only for your own interests, but take an interest in others, too. You must have the same attitude that Christ Jesus had.”

The above verses framed the mission retreat Midway Students took at the start of July. We went to Camp Jo-Ota in order to deep clean cabins and shelters. The selected verses were to remind us of our purpose in going on the retreat, learning to focus on the needs of others rather than our own cares.

To be honest, I wasn’t sure how well our students would embody the above verses during our mission retreat. However, my expectations of the group were blown out of the water. During the first minutes of cleaning the camp, I quickly realized that our youth had an impressive work-ethic, both as individuals and as a team. The students selflessly cleaned the dark, dusty, and dirty corners of many cabins and shelters at Camp Jo-Ota. All the while, smiles and laughter from the students made the experience quite enjoyable.

When we left the church on Friday, we were friends, but certainly not family. But, through our team-building experiences throughout the weekend, we came back deeply united as brothers and sisters in Christ. In fact, a highlight of the retreat for everyone was completing the on-site obstacle course, which required plenty of teamwork. Between rope crossings, trust falls, and wall scaling, we grew closer both physically and spiritually.

Oh, and it would be a crime for me to not mention the hours we spent at the pool. The only thing special about this concrete rectangle of water was the diving board, which we used quite a lot. However, with the fun we had swimming the pool could have qualified as the most exciting waterpark in the world.

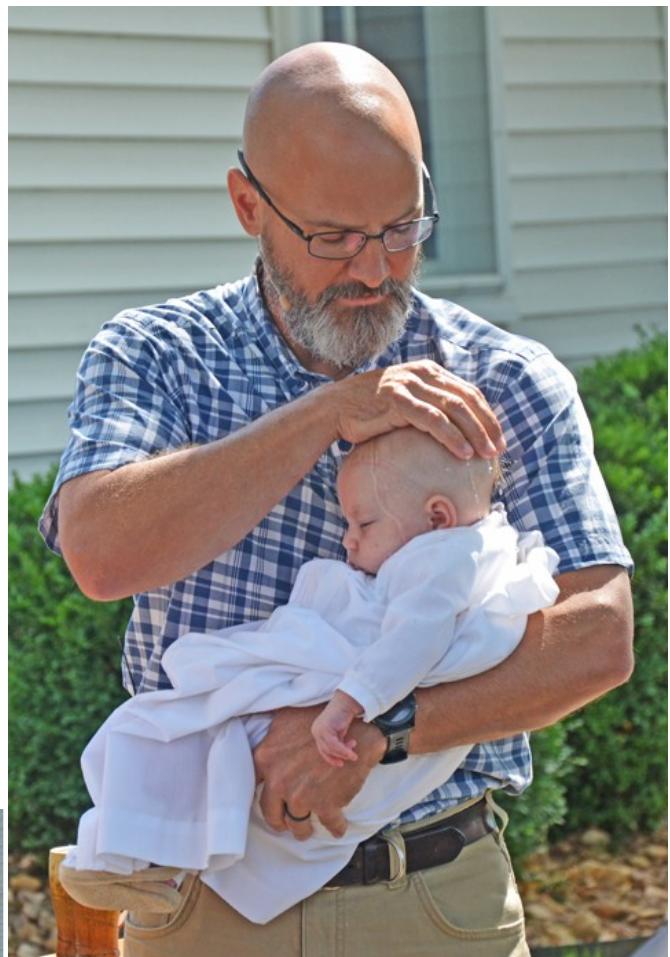

We were able to have so much fun together because we became more than just friends, we became family. I am so grateful to the Lord for all the good he provided through the retreat. It is my hope that Midway Students is becoming a solidified program within our local church. It is deeply evident to me that our youth care about their journey of faith, and they appreciate the countless congregants who support their journey.

Baptism

Goldie Drew Gessling

Worship on July 30 opened with the baptism of Goldie Drew Gessling, daughter of Andrew and Mandy Gessling, as family and friends joined Rev. Ben on the sidewalk of our outdoor sanctuary. Goldie is also the granddaughter of Marlin and Tami Gessling, niece of Kendall and Heather Gessling, cousin to Abigail and Isabelle Gessling and Evan Hughes, and sister to Gabriel, Gideon, Garrison, and Gavin Gessling.

Sanctuary gets a firmer foundation

Work continues on new flooring in our sanctuary. The existing floor has been removed down to and including most of the original structure and later repair work. In respect for those who built the sanctuary for occupancy in 1870, a few boards that were still usable remain in the new floor. Coleman Home Repair Company is the contractor for the renovations.

The new floor follows the original designed slope toward the front. The foundation was checked for needed repairs and upgrades, and a vapor barrier was placed on the ground. Work has begun on the altar area and alcove leading to fellowship hall.

Meanwhile, work has begun on the downstairs area which will become the sanctuary for the Midway Youth. The walls have been removed and the furnace moved into the store room at the far end. New bathrooms upstairs are the third phase of the renovations.

Sweet time at the Food Bank of Central and Northeast Missouri

A big thank you to those in our church who participated in the Give Back Day on July 25 at the Food Bank. We bagged approximately 5000 lbs of sweet potatoes that had come from North Carolina and Georgia. The hard workers included Gyla Elmore, John and Margaret Preus, Marsha Coleman, Mariea Caruthers, Beth Luetjen, Mike and Betty Fuemeler, Barbara Sumner, Dwain Hovis, Jill and Roger Walker, Bree Martin, and Louise Stanley.

Vegetables. Vegetables. Vegetables... gardens are hopefully producing lots of vegetables. Zucchini seem to be everywhere. I fry them, make apple butter out of them, and make cheesy casseroles. Here is one of my favorites. Enjoy! Hope Burkart

Cheesy Zucchini Casserole

2 medium zucchini, slices thin, do not peel.
2 medium tomatoes, peeled and chopped.
1 medium onion, sliced and separated.
1-2 cups grated cheddar cheese.
3 slices bacon, cooked and crumbled.
Butter.
Salt and pepper.
Bread crumbs.

In a buttered casserole dish, layer zucchini, onions and tomatoes.
Dot with butter and scatter cheese and bacon over each layer.
Salt and pepper lightly.
Mix bread crumbs and melted butter and spread on top.
Bake at 400 degrees covered for one hour; uncover for last 20 minutes.

It is Back to School time at Twice Blessed.

We have an assortment of school supplies: lunchboxes, backpacks, notebooks, pencils, glue, and crayons so we can get our families prepared for going back to school.

We have had lots of blessings bestowed on Twice Blessed in the last month. We thank Ryan and Laura Cunningham for a 10x16 shed that they no longer had a use for and donated to Twice Blessed. We will be able to house all our items for the Christmas Store in this shed. Also a big thanks to Perry Luetkemeyer and Jim Johnson for moving the shed from Cunningham's and setting it up at Twice Blessed. When weather allows the doors will be repaired and painting done. We also appreciate all the volunteer help in moving the remaining Twice Blessed items from the church basement to the store. Many hands made short work and we truly appreciated it.

Thank you to Duane Perry for doing some needed repairs and repainting our Blessing Box.

The Back Row By Gene Baumann

Of all the many blessing God has bestowed on me, I think my favorite is that I am easily entertained. This came to mind recently as I attended a Saturday evening 50th wedding anniversary celebration for a retired Columbia police officer.

I presumed correctly that most of those attending would have quite a few years of age on themselves. As anticipated, I did not know very many people there, but did know at least half those at our table. Now I wish I could claim the other half as long-time friends.

As the evening went on, I began to notice the most commonly asked question was "What's their name?" as people walked by or left after stopping to chat. I must admit some comfort in knowing that I am not alone in my inability to remember names.

That was Saturday night. The next morning at church I found myself asking myself that same question, "What's their name?" about more than a few of our newer members here at Midway Locust Grove. It may take a while, but I hope to eventually know and will remember their names. I realize it is part of the aging process, but will not curse my memory because of my years.

I have absorbed a comment I read somewhere recently and think of it often at our morning coffee sessions when folks complain about getting old. The admonition is to not complain about growing old; too many people aren't given the privilege.
