From the Pastor's Desk

Dear Beloved Community,

In Matthew 4, Jesus begins the process of calling those who would become disciples. He's moved from Nazareth to Capernaum and has taken up the message his cousin John started: "Repent, for the Kingdom of God has come near!" This begins to attract some attention and eventually people begin to claim the role of "follower of Jesus." He starts with two brothers who he finds in the Sea of Galilee casting out nets so that they might be able to make a living. He makes a confusing pitch to these brothers, "Follow me and I will make you fish for people." There's something about this that's so compelling that they leave behind everything they've known and follow Jesus. They want to know what it's like to fish for people, to let them know that God has come near again.

I've been thinking a lot about fishing and what this might mean for us. Sometimes we look at "fishing for people" and modernize it a little bit. We think it's about having the right kind of bait or lure to bring people in, that if we just change something or add something people will flock to us. But that wasn't the fishing the disciples were doing. They used nets, they dropped them into the water and waited. Nets don't discriminate, nets don't specialize, they catch what they catch. I think there's something beautiful about that as the metaphor for what we are called to do to make disciples. We add the net, the love of God, the service to one another, into the waters that we find ourselves in and allow people to come and see. We welcome in anyone who would come. If we call ourselves fishers of men, we have to realize that God desires to draw all people together. There is no category of in and out, no right bait or right line, but rather we are called to be present where the people already are and show them what love looks like.

Blessings,
Rev Jeff Hinton

Sorry I had to cancel our lunch at Golden Corral. I miss our lunch times together, so I want to have a brown bag lunch on February the 10th at 11:30 in the gym. We will have a 4th Tuesday lunch at Golden Corral on February the 24th at 1:30.

It is time for our yearly dues. Dues are $12.00 per person. This money is used to help support activities at Goodrich or wherever we feel there is a need. If you are unable to pay this amount, do not let that keep you from joining the GCGers. You may give cash or check to Pam Cook in an envelope with your name on it.

Please remember those that are home bound, in a nursing facility or assisted living with phone calls, cards or visits.

Blessings,
Kathy

The Goodrich Book Club loves reading and February is the perfect time to read more about our state's history. Edna Ferber's book "Cimmaron" is a fictional tale of Oklahoma that we will love this month! A little background about her – In addition to "Cimmaron", the movie "Giant" and musical "Showboat" all began as epic books of hers. The review below is from the review site, 'Cannonball Read'.

"The thing about Ferber's books is that they always read like big Technicolor grand movies, way before such a thing existed. They certainly didn't in 1929, when this was published. But so many have been turned into such, like this book (twice, first time winning an Academy Award), Show Boat, Giant, and Saratoga Trunk, to name a few.

"Cimarron" is a classic often read for its historical importance and strong storytelling, but readers are frequently challenged by its outdated, racist depictions, making it a book with significant impact but requiring critical engagement.

The Book's hero, Yancy Cravat, is a hot bull-headed force of nature. He is an eloquent lawyer, a newspaper publisher, and an ace shot. What is not to like? He swans into 1880s Wichita Kansas, and sweeps lovely Sabra Venable, daughter of well-bred Southern aristocracy, off his feet. And in no time, she is married against her family's will, the Oklahoma Land Rush is on, and they are looking for their own bit of land. But it turns out to not happen, because Yancy, ever the gentleman, unknowingly allows the quick-witted and duplicitous Dixie to snatch the property away from him.

The worst sin Yancy commits in Sabra's eyes is that he considers the indigenous people of Oklahoma as admirable and worthy of full citizenship, and what's more, has a newspaper to use as a bully pulpit. Sabra has the opposite view, and throws herself instead into civic improvements of the newborn Osage, Oklahoma.

Considering the publishing date of this book, 1929, I would imagine that a considerable portion of the readers were absolutely on Sabra's side, who is portrayed as hard-working and trying her level best to do what's right.. But Ferber definitely wasn't."

Join us in reading this story which challenges us still today. You may find a new Valentine in Ferber.
