

Scholarship Information

Disclaimers

CBI San Jose offers scholarships for boarding students to cover food and housing for students who need financial assistance.

The maximum award amount would be $5,000, which would cover the cost of housing and board. Half scholarships may also awarded to students.

The heart of the ministry is for every student to be able to attend CBI San Jose, but with that said, CBI San Jose is not obligated to give out any financial awards but will grant scholarships as deemed fit by the admissions department and as donations allow.

Rules

To apply for a scholarship, submit a 500-word essay answering the following question:

1. Why do you think you should be awarded the scholarship? Are you the child of a pastor or a missionary? Do you have uncontrollable circumstances that are hindering you from getting the money? (minimum 500-word answer)

Submit essays with this signed rule sheet to admissions@cbsanjose.org

Sign

I hereby do promise that the written essay attached is true and my own writing and that no other person or Artificial Intelligence engine wrote anything included in these essays. I understand that violating these rules may result in immediate disqualification from participating in CBI San Jose this year or any following year.

I Agree (Name) _____

Date _____