President's Message

Last Call for Rose Hill Originals Before We Order the Memorial

Over the last several years, we have been collecting the names of Rose Hill residents who were here at the community's beginning and continue to live here a half century later. In some cases, one of the spouses has passed away; in other cases, like Twila Noble who just passed away nine months ago, one spouse has left us to be with their late beloved. Twila lived at the corner of Rose Hill Drive and Apple Tree Drive for 50 years.

We have 20 other family names where at least one of the originals continues to live in Rose Hill. In one case, one family moved around the corner. In all the others, they continue to live in the same house.

The plan is to develop a memorial honoring our Rose Hill Originals from the 1950s and place it on or near the Rose Hill historic marker on Rose Hill Drive at the John Marshall Library. We'll save space to add Originals from the 1960s.

Reminder: Follow the Rules to Avoid Problems

It's good to see so many residents cleaning up and improving their property. The Spring Cleanup usually results in a large amount of household debris. Don't assume that just because you place it at the curb that the trash service will haul it away. Call Virginia Trash or AAA to schedule a special pickup for yard and household debris.

If the debris isn't removed within a reasonable time, RHCA will complain to the zoning inspector and/or Health Department. You can avoid a violation notice and a potential fine by simply arranging to have the debris removed.

Also, residents need to remember that the community's original covenants remain in effect. Check before you plan that renovation or expansion. Violation of a covenant could result in a civil complaint by any Rose Hill resident and the unnecessary time and cost of litigation. The covenants are posted on our website, myRoseHill.com.

The most restrictive covenant bars the building of a fence in any front yard. There also are restrictions on side-yard fences. Check out the covenants before you build.

And don't forget to educate yourself about the County's zoning laws. Violations could result in prosecution. A couple of the ones most cited involve the parking of commercial vehicles in a residential neighborhood, parking on more than 25% of the front yard, and inoperable, abandoned or unlicensed vehicles on either streets or private property unless screened from neighboring lots on private property.

You'll need a permit from the County for additions, improvements, rewiring, etc. Make sure the County inspects all work, even if you do it yourself; that protects your homeowners insurance.

Finally, here's another friendly reminder that parking is illegal on the grass strip between the sidewalk and curb on Rose Hill Drive. Violators are subject to be ticketed. Several citations have been issued recently. *

Most important, we want to make sure we haven't missed anyone. Please check the list below for spelling, correct year, etc. If your name should be on the list, contact us immediately. If you think someone else's name should be on the list, let us know, and we'll check it out.

After checking our list at least twice, we'll order the appropriate plaque. A dedication ceremony will also be scheduled.

You can read more about our Originals online at myRoseHill.com where you'll also find the history of our community.

RHCA is extremely proud of its long-time residents. They have helped keep the community a great place to live, which in turn attracts a continuous flow of newcomers and allows us to reinvent ourselves without sacrificing any quality of life.

Here's the honor roll of Rose Hill Originals:

Rose Hill Beauties

It's time to reward those Rose Hill residents who keep their property in tip-top shape. The judges will be making their rounds in the next few weeks, compiling a list of those that look particularly good. Coveted Rose Hill Beauty signs will be awarded to members of RHCA for display in their yard. Since the membership pays for the signs, it is only proper that signs be awarded to members only. If you haven't joined for 2006, do so this month! The form can be found at myRoseHill.com. Our 2006 list of members is printed on the next page. You can assist the judges by helping make sure no property is overlooked. If you think your property or that of a neighbor deserves consideration, please e-mail or give one of the officers a call. Don't be bashful about nominating your own property. We want to make sure everyone who deserves to be considered is nominated. There are 700 homes in Rose Hill so the judges could use your help.

County Budget Update

When the Board of Supervisors adopts a budget for the new fiscal year beginning July 1, 2006 and running through June 30, 2007, one thing is for certain: the tax rate will go down and your bill will go up as compared to last year. The County Executive proposed a budget of almost $3.2 billion with a residential real estate tax rate of 93 cents per hundred of assessed value, seven cents less than last year. At that rate, the real estate tax bill for an average Fairfax County homeowner would rise to approximately $544 more than a year ago.

At that rate, the real estate tax bill for an average Fairfax County homeowner would rise to approximately $544 more than a year ago.

Almost immediately, there were calls to reduce the tax rate to 90 cents or even lower. Since the County Executive's budget included more than $150 million in unallocated funds, it was relatively easy to get down to 90 cents. Each penny cut produces $56 million in budget cuts. The scramble then was on to cut the budget even further although the special interest groups lined up at the Board budget hearings on April 3-5 in an effort to protect or enhance funding. There was also testimony from individuals and groups who complained about the continuing increase in actual dollars paid for taxes.

Suffice it to say that we here in Rose Hill are just like most everyone else in the County. We'd like to see our tax bill go down, not up. At the same time, we don't want to see specific items we support reduced. On that note, we were glad to see the budget includes 24 additional police officers, including three at Franconia. RHCA proposed an increase in officers last year and it was included in this year's budget. The new officers are specifically being hired to help reduce response time, further develop community policing, and engage residents to partnering in reducing crime. Through our Neighborhood Watch and the Franconia District Station Citizen's Advisory Council (CAC), we here in Rose Hill work closely with our police to help identify problems before they start. We welcome new professional help. With that in mind, I want to publicly commend Woody Betts and Donna Beaty for their work with the Neighborhood Watch and Woody and Bev and Norm Cherkis for their work with the CAC. They are Rose Hill's pipeline into the Franconia Station.

Neighborhood Watch and Woody and Bev and Norm Cherkis for their work with the CAC. They are Rose Hill's pipeline into the Franconia Station.

While the budget battles have been local for a number of years, I expect there will be renewed pressure on the General Assembly to limit future percentage increases. All of Fairfax County's powers have to be specifically granted by the Commonwealth of Virginia. A California-style tax revolt or version of Prince Georges County Maryland's TRIM rule appear to be on the horizon. I would much rather see the County better live within its means than be subject to a State-mandated percentage increase limit on future budgets.

Park Lighting Update

Once again, we have advised the Park Authority in writing of the community's opposition to the extensive lighting plan for the six reconfigured athletic fields. Given the fact that the actual lighting of the fields is years away and advancing technology is making illumination and shielding of athletic field lights less of a problem for neighbors, we hope our fears in that direction will be mitigated. However, the noise and traffic issues still concern us. In short, we think the new plan has the potential to change the character of Lee District Park from a good neighbor to a mega-complex in our midst. Unlike many District Parks in Fairfax County, Lee District can only be reached by driving through stable, quiet, single family neighborhoods. Rose Hill will bear the brunt of the park's planned new-found popularity for patrons from miles away. The compressed ballfield use between 6 and 10:30pm will only add to our traffic and noise.

Auto Thefts on Rise

There were 232 autos stolen in the Franconia area last year. Ninety of them were not recovered. Seventy-six were stolen and recovered in Fairfax County and 56 were stolen and recovered outside of Fairfax County. Thirteen were stolen at Springfield Mall last year. In North America, a vehicle is stolen every 19 seconds. Among the most common myths is that if your car is stolen, your insurance company will give you a new one. That couldn't be farther from the truth. Insurance companies will pay the depreciated value of your car and won't pay the tax when you purchase a new one. And, your personal belongings that were stolen along with the car are subject to you homeowner's policy deductible. The Franconia police station's March/April newsletter passes on these suggestions to reduce auto theft:

- ★ Keep valuables out of sight.
- ★ Place personal property in the trunk and take any valuables with you.
- ★ Take your keys.
- ★ Never leave your car unattended with keys in the ignition, especially at convenience stores and gas stations.
- ★ Lock your car (approximately 50% of stolen vehicles were left unlocked).
- ★ Don't leave the registration in the car.
- ★ Park in well-lit areas at night.
- ★ If you have a garage, use it!
- ★ Park in commercial lots where there is an attendant.
- ★ Use an anti-theft security device such as a steering wheel lock, gearshift column lock, or an audible car alarm.

puppet shows, a petting zoo, and rain forest demonstrations. Billy B, an environmental performer, will be on the main stage at noon and 2pm.

Free parking is available in the student parking lot. Food vendors will be on hand and food is the only thing you have to pay for.

County Demographic Study

The County has released a comprehensive demographic study that highlights the past, present, and future of the County. I thought you might be interested in some of the data as compiled by the County. According to the study, the County's population is aging in place. The median age of residents has significantly increased since 1970 from 25.2 years to 37.6 years of age. The number of residents over the age of 65 is expected to grow by 80% from 2000 to 2020. At the same time, while proportionally decreasing as a percent of the total population, it is expected that by 2020 the County will add nearly 43,000 new residents under the age of 19. In 1970, 36% of the County residents who worked outside the home worked in Fairfax County; today nearly 55% live and work in the County. Despite the growth to a population in excess of one million, a current Fairfax County resident is less likely to be the victim of either a violent crime or a property crime than during the three previous decades. As of 2004, the violent crime rate was 44% lower than it was in 1980 and the property crime rate was 61% lower.

Racial and ethnic minorities have grown from 6.8% of the population in 1970 to 38.2% in 2003. By 2010, approximately 45% of the County's population may be racial and ethnic minorities and 39% may speak a language other than English at home. Many of the County's children are children of immigrants. As of 2000, an estimated 38% of Fairfax County children under age 18 had at least one foreign-born parent. Yet, more than 75% of the children in Fairfax County who are the children of immigrants were born here, automatically making them U.S. citizens.

Bicycle Safety

Although young bicyclists should learn the "rules of the road" and this release will provide safety tips, it is important drivers remember that as the weather warms up, they should keep watch out for bicyclists, especially in residential areas. The most important thing drivers can do to avoid striking a bicyclist is obey the speed limit, normally 35 mph in residential areas or 25 mph in school zones, but be mindful of the speed limits where you live and drive, and stay focused on the road and the possibility of young ones riding or running into your path.

During one of the first warm days of 2006, Monday, March 13, two young bicyclists were struck by cars. Both incidents demonstrate the importance for bicyclists of every age to be taught bicycle safety before being allowed to ride. The first incident occurred around 4:30pm on King Centre Drive. A 10-year-old girl was riding her bicycle southbound on King Centre Drive when she failed to yield the right of way to a car driving eastbound. She struck the car and was transported to Inova Fairfax Hospital with non-life-threatening injuries. She was not wearing a helmet. The second incident that day occurred at 5:50pm. A 7-year-old girl was riding her bicycle when she struck the back of a car traveling westbound on Lauralyn Place. She was transported to the hospital with non life-threatening injuries. In both cases, the young bicyclists were at fault in the crashes. Bicycling is a great opportunity for children to have fun, but let's ensure they stay safe as well. Make sure your children are aware of the following bicycle "rules of the road:"

- ★ Pedestrians have the right-of-way on sidewalks.
- ★ When riding in the street, travel in the same direction as vehicle traffic.
- ★ Children under 15 years of age are required to wear a helmet.
- ★ A bicyclist in the street has all the rights and responsibilities of any other driver.
- ★ Bicyclists should know all the hand signals to indicate direction of travel.
- ★ When coming out of a driveway or crossing a street, bicyclists must make sure there is no other traffic before proceeding—“look both ways before entering the street.”
- ★ Bicyclists must obey highway signs such as stop signs.
- ★ Remember: many times drivers do not see bicyclists, so bicyclists should use bike flags and bright colored clothing to help drivers see them.
- ★ Young bicyclists should not bike after dark.
- ★ Bicyclists should look out for cars, other bicyclists, pedestrians, skateboarders, animals, or any other potential obstacle in their path, and they should also be careful when passing parked cars to make sure a driver is not about to pull out from the space or open a car door.

What if you didn't have to feel embarrassed to see the Dentist?

Perhaps you're not perfect about brushing or flossing, and maybe it's been a while since you've seen the dentist. Wouldn't it be nice if that were OK; that you wouldn't be judged or scolded or made to feel like you're just about the biggest failure in town? And while you're at it, wouldn't you like your smile to look better, cleaner, healthier?
