RHCA To Honor 'Originals' At Its April 24 Meeting

We have identified 29 families that moved into new Rose Hill houses during the 1950s and were still here as we celebrated the community's 50th Anniversary in 2004. Those names have been memorialized on a plaque that will be unveiled at our April 24 meeting starting at 7pm in the community room of the John Marshall Library. Refreshments will be served!

Now, we need your help with suggestions as to where to place the large plaque. We have invited all of the recipients to join us for the unveiling and participate in a discussion as to where the plaque should be placed. Each family named on the plaque will receive a framed replica for display in their home.

Connie and Frank Beatty moved into Rose Hill in December of 1954 and Connie still resides on Rose Hill Drive. The 1955 list of Originals includes Twila and Essie Noble, Anna and Wellington Machmer, Jean and William Stemple, Jean and Robert Thomson, Helen Wagness, Alice and Edward Holloman, George and Doris Krapf, Pearl and Wesley Butler, and Tom and Wanda Violette.

The 1956 group includes Bev and Tom Eppolito, Ray and Bobby Stone, Kae and John Furneisen, and David and Gladys Tutterow. In 1957, Macy Watts, Mary and Ken Mann, Beatrice Mulvey, and Donald and Norma Jean Youmans arrived. 1958 saw Dorothy and Joseph Turner, John and Jean Madaris, Tony and Millie Lane, Mike and Bea Evans, and Ed and Penny Molner set up housekeeping in Rose Hill.

In 1959, Helen and Robert Flahive, Jayne Letsche, Jack and Dot Moore, Raymond and Evelyn Market, Russell, Phyllis and Jack Blush, and Russell and Maxine Jones arrived in Rose Hill.

Come and help RHCA honor its long-time residents who have helped make this community a great place to live, work, and play. And, since a number of Rose Hill houses were built in the 1960s, we are starting our search for those residents who have been here since their home was built. It won't be long that they, too, will have been here 50 years. We always have room for another plaque!

Election, Memberships

Thanks to Woody Betts for conducting last month's meeting while I was on a sabbatical at Spring Training in Arizona. I hope everyone enjoyed the Rose Hill panels that will be on display at the Franconia Museum. One thing I didn't tell Woody and Linda Nichols last month is that we need to have our annual election. So, we'll have to make up for my oversight this month. In order to satisfy our bylaws, we'll continue our March meeting before we open the April meeting so we can conduct the election. Our membership drive for 2007 is over and the honor roll of members is printed for the last time on page 5. If you don't see your name on the list, you can still join by going to myRoseHill.com, printing out a membership application, and mailing it to RHCA at P.O. Box 10891, Franconia, VA 22310. We'll acknowledge your membership in next month's edition of The Rambler but we won't reprint the entire list.

Rose Hill Beauties, Etc.

We'll soon be awarding the coveted Rose Hill Beauty signs for 2007. They go to RHCA members who keep their property in great shape throughout the year. Remember, the signs are placed ONLY in the yards of RHCA members. Other winners will be listed in The Rambler. While the judges make their rounds looking for "beauties," they'll also be taking note of problems that need attention. Zoning violations, trash piles, cars with expired license or inspection stickers, etc. will be reported to the proper authorities. Residents are also reminded that the County is cracking down on overcrowded homes, particularly those single-family properties being used as boarding houses. Also, remember that only 25 percent of the front yard can be used for driveway purposes, and parking on the grass strip between the sidewalk and Rose Hill Drive is illegal. You could receive a ticket for the latter violation. Zoning violations can result in fines or jail time. RHCA is committed to keeping our community free of blight. If you see a problem and are unsure if it is a violation, contact any of the RHCA officers and we will check it out.

New Four-Way Stop Signs

You may have noticed the new four-way stops on Willowood Drive at Bee Street and Apple Tree Drive at Willowood Drive. The new signs are part of RHCA's continuing effort to slow down traffic on our residential streets. Previously, Willowood was unencumbered from Telegraph Road to Apple Tree and Apple Tree was a straight shot from Rose Hill Drive to its eastern terminus. The new stops will interrupt those who gathered speed as they moved along. At least one motorist already has shown his or her displeasure at the interrupting by leaving rubber at both signs on Willowood at Bee Street. Hopefully he or she will do it again and someone will note the license number so we can reward that driver with a ticket to remember the visit to our community. Thanks to those residents who signed the petition that resulted in the new stop signs. We hope residents near the new signs along Willowood and Apple Tree will have an easier time getting out of their driveways. We are continuing with our efforts to introduce other traffic calming methods to our streets in Rose Hill. Please sign our petition when one of your neighbors asks for your support. If you don't want anyone knocking on your door, please come to the RHCA meeting starting at 7pm on April 24 at the John Marshall Library. You don't have to stay if you don't wish to. Just sign the petition and leave. Thanks for your support. Together, we'll make Rose Hill a safer place.

Overall Crime Down, BUT

The Fairfax County crime statistics for 2006 are in and overall crime decreased 6.7 percent. However, the robbery and burglary categories both showed significant increases. Robbery was up 18.4 percent and burglary jumped 17.6 percent. These are the categories of crime that most often occur in our community. There is some good news on those fronts, however. Preliminary numbers for burglary in early 2007 show a decrease as compared with the same period last year. What's more the police have made numerous arrests in burglary cases, with a single arrest often closing a number of cases. Several have been the result of telephone tips to the police or Crime Solvers. If you see a crime in progress, call 911. If you have information concerning a suspect in a crime, call the police non-emergency number at 703.691.2131 or Crime Solvers at 1.866.411.TIPS(8477). Officer James Nida, the crime prevention officer at the Franconia District Station, outlined the importance of citizen reports at our February meeting. He demonstrated how a series of calls can lead to the apprehension of a criminal although none of those calls by themselves were enough to lead to an arrest. Don't ever hesitate to call the police. They truly appreciate your help as it often pays off in an arrest.

Coyote Sightings

Over the past several months, there have been several reported sightings of what appeared to be coyotes in Rose Hill. Turns out the reports were accurate. The County Police Department's Wildlife Biologist and a Park Authority Naturalist confirm that the animals are here to stay. Coyotes will frequent fields, hunt along streambeds, and work woods for food. They prey on larger creatures such as small deer, turkey, and geese. They will lurk near outdoor compost piles and pet dishes so cats and small dogs could be in danger. Although generally nocturnal, they will come out during the day if food sources are available. If you see a coyote, the rules of engagement are simple: chase it away by yelling. Once known as an animal indigenous to the western United States, coyotes began migrating east when forests east of the Mississippi River began to be cleared. They reached northwest Virginia about 1970. Road kill such as deer is often given as one of the attractions for coyotes. Unlike a fox, coyotes walk with their noses pointed down at about a 45-degree angle and its tail down. A fox walks with its head up and its tail straight out. Coyotes are territorial, and unlike deer, their populations are self-limiting. If their numbers fall, coyotes produce larger litters. If there is overpopulation, litters shrink. That trait and their territorial nature make them virtually impossible to eliminate. This informational is courtesy of the Fairfax County Park Authority's Spring 2007 ResOURces newsletter. ResOURces first wrote about coyotes in 2004. See that article at www.fairfaxcounty.gov/parks/resources/archives/coyotes.htm.

New Eminent Domain Law

The Virginia Legislature passed and the governor recently signed into law a new eminent domain bill that limits the Commonwealth's ability to acquire private property. The action came in reaction to the U.S. Supreme Court ruling in the Kelo case that public property could be taken for private gain to build big box stores, shopping malls, etc., in the name of redevelopment. The bill (House Bill 2954) states that private property can be taken for traditional public uses such as roads, schools, and post offices. It also tightens the state's definition of blight. And that will make it tougher for the County to crack down on properties such as 4612 Roundhill Road. According to the Washington Times, local governments will still be able to acquire properties that pose a real threat to public health or safety, but perfectly fine homes and businesses can no longer be seized using vague and subjective criteria like 'deteriorated' or 'dilapidated.' Those two latter terms are most often used to describe 4612 Roundhill Road. At present, the Zoning Administrator classifies the property as 'safe and secure' and promises to inspect it at least once a year. We are going to have to convince somebody in authority that 4612 Round Hill Road is not a 'perfectly fine home' and classifies it into such a criteria that the owner either fixes it up or the County does it for him. We are getting very little help from the County at this point. With an election coming up this fall, I intend to make it an issue. We'll see who responds.

Unlike a fox, coyotes walk with their noses pointed down at about a 45-degree angle and its tail down. A fox walks with its head up and its tail straight out.

Development News

Although there is nothing to report concerning Rose Hill proper this month, there are some scary proposals being reviewed in the Springfield area. Scary as far as traffic and its impact on roads we use everyday are concerning. First, I'm sure you have read about the proposal to send 20,000+ jobs to Fort Belvoir as the result of other military base closures around the country. Some of that already has happened on the main post and we are seeing the effect on Telegraph Road, South Van Dorn Street, and South King's Highway. Massive development of almost five million square feet is proposed for the Engineer Proving Grounds off Backlick Road. And, Springfield Mall has jumped into the mix with a plan to change the mall from a retail center to mixed use including a total of five million square feet of retail, office, and residential. The latter will be in high-rise buildings 30 stories high. Neither the Army nor the owners of the mall have shown any plans to either improve existing or handle the new traffic each proposal will generate. In the case of the mall, the owners are trying to make the case that use of the Metro will greatly offset the added traffic. Although these two proposals are several miles away from Rose Hill, they will impact our daily lives. They certainly will enhance the marketplace for resales, but the traffic may be unbearable if proper road and transit planning is not included. So far, there is little indication of the latter. We'll keep you informed.

Andrea Jeffries: A Rose Hill Jewel

Rose Hill Civic Association honors Andrea Jeffries for her loving care and dedication to our children for 26 years.

When you walk or drive by Rose Hill School in the morning you will see Andrea making sure that all our children arrive at school safely while, at same time, keeping the traffic moving smoothly. I, personally, have been most impressed with the care, love, and professionalism in which she protects our children and helps start their day off on a positive tone...often with hugs, pats on shoulders, and a "Good Morning." Andrea wants all children to know that she is there for them and hopes that she is making a positive impression as she doles out the hugs and pats on the back.

Andrea feels that everyone is very special and as you watch her doing the duties of a crossing guard, you know that she is going well beyond the expectations of her position. Andrea is very special and deserves all the thanks we can give for taking such good care of our children and starting them off on a positive note. Her afternoon duties contain more of the same positive attitude.

I have known Andrea for many years. She attended Rose Hill School and has lived on Leewood Drive all her life...first with her parents, the Whites, and then later she moved across the street when she married Stephen Jeffries. They have two children, Jessica and Jacob, who both attended Rose Hill School.

When I asked Andrea what she likes best about her job, she said, "meeting lots of kids and enjoying our very diverse population." She feels that everyone is very special in their own way! You could probably guess what she dislikes most about being a crossing guard....those very cold and rainy days!!!!!!! (which we have had so many of lately).

When I interviewed Andrea, I discovered it was her birthday; she told me that I made her day very special! I just want Andrea to know that she makes my day very special when I get one of her hugs or a special wave as I walk by.

Virginia Tech Massacre

Monday's events at the Virginia Tech campus represent a tragedy of monumental proportions. RHCA is trying to figure out the best way to help those in our community and in our lives that are affected. Our thoughts and prayers are with the families of those affected by this tragedy.

The Fairfax County school system's crisis support team of trained psychologists and social workers is available to work with students and adults in our schools. Parents should feel free to contact their principal if they would like to request counseling services for their children.

We grieve along with the families and friends of the victims of this terrible tragedy, which has affected not only those affiliated with Virginia Tech but the entire state of Virginia and the nation.

Heavenly Father, come with Your peace to the students, faculty and staff at Virginia Tech, and to the greater community of Blacksburg. Calm their fears and bring Your comforting presence. Give wisdom and strength to the administration of the University as they deal with this crisis. Grant healing and comfort to the injured and wisdom to those treating them.

Bring Your powerful strength and presence to those families who will soon hear the sad news that their loved one has been killed. Send Your ministering spirits to heal and restore the entire community as they seek to recover from this horrendous act of violence.

Call our nation to repentance and righteousness, that You may heal our land from all that troubles us. Amen.

Rose Hill Elementary School

- ◆ SOL Testing. Students will be taking the SOL tests in May according to the schedule below. Please help your child by making sure they arrive at school on time. Avoid scheduling any doctor appointments in the morning of testing days. The results of the SOL tests are important to our school so attendance during testing is critical. The tests are not timed. Encourage your child to get a good night's sleep and to eat a healthy breakfast. We want everyone to do their best!

- ◆ This is the time of year when we begin planning for the 2007-2008 school year and we need your help. Our staffing is dependent on the number of students who have registered for Rose Hill. When this number is accurate, we can ensure the right number of teachers without waiting until the last minute to hire. Our kindergarten and first grade staffing is always the most varied. We need your help with getting these students registered if they will be attending Rose Hill. Here is what you can do to help:
Tell all parents of rising kindergarten students (must be age 5 on or before September 30, 2007) to attend our kindergarten orientation and student registration on April 26 at 7pm.
Tell all parents of rising kindergarten students who miss our parent orientation/registration event that we are offering two additional kindergarten registration dates: May 14 (9:30am-12pm) and May 24 (5-7pm).
Help us find all students now attending private kindergarten who will be enrolling in Rose Hill Elementary School for first grade. Send these parents to the school to pre-register their children as soon as they can.
Send any new neighbors you meet to the school to register as soon as they come. (Many have a tendency to wait until the last weeks prior to the opening of school in the fall).
  - ◆ April 23-April 27. Spring Book Fair
  - ◆ April 26. Kindergarten Orientation for Parents
  - ◆ May 7-May 31. SOL Testing (Grades 3, 4, 5 and 6)
  - ◆ May 11-12. Rose Hill School Play
  - ◆ May 31. Rose Hill Singers Concert

FROSTY'S

HEATING & COOLING, INC.

Along with the cherry blossoms comes spring and with spring comes a lovely green Washington metro area. Many of us will suffer through allergy season thinking medicine and closing our windows are the only precautions we can take to avoid itchy and red eyes, throat pain, migraines, and sinus problems. Frosty's Heating & Cooling carries several products that may ease unwanted problems due to allergies, asthma, and general dust.

1 AIR CLEANERS

We offer several different types including electronic air cleaners, media air cleaners, and media type with electronic filters.

2 UV LIGHT RAYS

Air disinfection system that uses ultraviolet light to dramatically reduce microorganism growth thereby reducing illnesses, allergies, and odors.

3 DUCT CLEANING/DRYER VENT CLEANING

Rids your ducts of dirt, debris, mold, pollen, and dust mites while improving the efficiency of your unit.

Purifying your home is a relatively inexpensive way to improve indoor air quality in your home and alleviating most common allergy conditions.
