President's Message

New Principal at Rose Hill Elementary Shares Soup Night Tuesday, January 24

Elizabeth Obester, the new Principal at Rose Hill Elementary, will join RHCA for its soup night on Tuesday, January 24, 2012. Servings will begin at 6:30 p.m. in the pod area of Rose Hill Elementary. Residents are asked to bring their favorite soup to share (Kimberly Bush is reminded not to forget that yummy tomato bisque). Cookies or other desserts also will be welcome. RHCA will provide bread or crackers as well as iced tea and all the necessary serving items. In addition to meeting the new principal and sharing soup, there will be an update on the Rose Hill silos and other issues. Members are encouraged to bring up issues and ideas. Bring along your neighbor to share soup and community spirit.

Since we are beginning a new year, this is a good time to remind everyone (especially our newcomers) that RHCA insists that properties be maintained so our community will continue to look good. After all, our houses are our biggest asset. We will report piled-up trash, overcrowding of residences, excessive noise, vehicles parked on the grass, wrecked or inoperable vehicles, either on the street or private property, and other violations of County and State laws. RHCA has a large army of Neighborhood Watch volunteers who report suspicious activity, street light outages, pot holes, etc. as well as looking out for elderly residents on their block. If you would like to help, let any of the officers know and we'll forward you a list of issues and where to report. If anyone is uncomfortable reporting a community problem, it can be done anonymously in the name of RHCA. In this day and age, if you see something, SAY SOMETHING! We'll let you know how.

Holiday Lights

Maybe it was in the eyes of the beholders, but it certainly appeared that Rose Hill was much brighter during the Christmas season of 2011 than the previous year. The long list of honorees on page 5 certainly proves that point. We were happy to see the Dillons on Winston Place, the Martins on Blue Grass Drive and the Williams on the Willowood cul de sac back on the list. Proving the thoroughness by the judges, they again found the display at the Corbins on the short section of Split Rock Road near the golf course. The folks near the Corbins on Haystack Road and Carriage Drive needed some Christmas cheer after a year of dealing with problems caused by the new development. Special praise goes to the Fulks on Cottonwood and their daughter Tracy Campbell nearby for brightening up that area of Rose Hill. The Kroetches and Rabys did the same for their stretch of Flower Lane. The McMinns on Apple Tree Drive, the James' on May Boulevard, the Daileys on Eastchester Circle, the Nguyens on Rose Hill Drive and the Najazedehs on Telegraph Road also earned grand prizes. And the Dodson's tree on Wayside Place was even brighter than usual. The band also played on at the Szamborskis on Winston Place, sometimes all night! Although the trend seems to be toward inflatable displays, a number of old-fashioned arrangements caught the judge's eyes. Check out the entire list. If you think we missed anyone, let us know.

It's County Budget Time Again

The County has begun work on its budget for fiscal year 2013 starting this coming July 1. At present, there is a projected deficit of approximately $100 million, meaning either further cuts or additions fees and/or taxes. Property values are projected to improve a bit this year, taking some of the pressure off the budget. We'll know when the annual assessments are received soon. As a member of Supervisor McKay's budget advisory committee, I will be working to minimize any tax increases and will look for ways to INCREASE funding for our police force patrols. The police have been cut too much in recent years, limiting the number of patrol officers we have on the street at any one time. I continue to believe that there are administrative costs in the school budget that can be streamlined with the savings being passed on to the classroom and the police. I welcome your thoughts, particularly those that offer solutions rather than only rhetoric. You can join me in following the budget process at fairfaxcounty.gov.

Silos Update

Don't hold your breath, but we may have achieved at least a reprieve on the demolition of the Rose Hill silos, the last remnant of the community's agricultural past. Claude Wheeler, the owner of the property on May Boulevard, has put it back on the market for use by a school, or church or both. There have been several inquiries and an official proposal appears imminent. RHCA and the community will be involved because Special Exception approval by the County is required. RHCA has advised potential users that community support is contingent on conditions of operations such as those that governed the activities of KinderCare, the previous tenant. We also will be seeking a commitment to preserve the silos. Additional information will be available at the January 24 meeting. In the meantime, our application to have the silos placed on the County's historic inventory continues to weave its way through the bureaucracy. We'll keep you advised. Thanks to all of you who responded to the plea on myrosehill.com to support the effort to Save Our Silos. That was precipitated by a plan to build 13 houses on the site. For now, at least, it appears the houses are on hold.

2012 Membership

RHCA is only as effective as its membership numbers. Because we have a supportive community, the county and the police take our concerns very seriously. In return, we support our county, schools, police and emergency responders. We need to continue a high level of membership in order to remain effective. Most of you know that our legitimate concerns are heard at the county level. We're still working to get our new neighbors to listen, but that's an ongoing process. We have some outstanding issues with the developer of Rose Hill Reserve, who has learned we won't go away. Join RHCA and keep us strong. Your support pays for the nine issues of The Rambler published annually, the post office box, the Rose Hill Beauty signs and support of several local charities. Remember, only RHCA members receive the coveted Rose Hill Beauty signs! Contributions in excess of the $10 dues enable us to maintain the landscaping in front of the entrance sign. It is updated with new flowers and mulch each season. Last year, we were able to undertake the SOS (Save Our Silos) program and the signs honoring our veterans because of your contributions. The SOS program appears to have been a success and we got many, many good comments about the support for our community veterans. In order to continue efforts such as these, we rely on contributions above and beyond the membership fee, which is set by our bylaws and can't be changed without amending the bylaws. We operate on a shoestring and our records are open for inspection. One more thing, we do pay for some basic items that are served at each meeting, but by and large the spreads are donated by members. Come to a meeting and join us at the table. There's always room for more. Please fill out the membership form on page 4 and send it, along with your check, to RHCA, P.O. Box 10891, Franconia, VA 22310. Look for your name in a subsequent Rambler. Members as of Jan. 9, 2012 are listed on page 4.

Another Bicentennial

This year marks the Bicentennial of the War of 1812, often referred to as the United States' Second War of Independence. The war didn't end until February of 1815 although a treaty between the U.S. and Britain had been signed in December of 1814. Took that long for the word to get around. In the meantime, the Americans, under General Zachary Taylor, were victorious at the Battle of New Orleans in January of 1815. The war had erupted after Americans felt the British were inciting Indian tribes on the frontier to attack settlers in an effort to corner the fur trade. Also, since Great Britain was at war with France and Napoleon, the British had destroyed a large number of U.S. trade ships headed to France. Commodore Perry's victory on Lake Erie in 1813 had avenged an earlier British victory over the USS Chesapeake in June. Fort McHenry in Baltimore withstood British bombardment on September 13-14 in 1814 and inspired Francis Scott Key's stirring song which became the Star Spangled Banner, our national anthem. At our doorstep, the British routed the Americans at the battle of Bladensburg in August of 1814, entered Washington and burned the White House, the beginning of what would become the Capitol, and the U. S. Treasury, and other government buildings. A torrential summer rainstorm helped douse the fires. Dolly Madison, President James Madison's wife, and the staff are credited with saving papers and artifacts from the White House. The Madisons and other government officials fled to the mountains of Virginia. The port of Alexandria was spared because it surrendered under threats of bombardment by the heavy guns of the British fleet, which had sailed up the Potomac. The occupiers stayed on a few days before heading back down the river.

Unfortunately, the media hasn't been filled with recollections of this historic event, so The Rambler is filling the gap! A community field trip by bus to Fort McHenry might be in order if there is enough interest. Maybe Connie Beatty will lead us in singing the National Anthem as we approach the site! That alone would be worth the price of the trip.

Another Both Sides Tour

Mo Haupt enjoyed the trip to Civil War sites in the Shenandoah Valley last November so much that he wrote an account of the day's activity. Check out Mo's prose and the picture of the giant pumpkin we encountered on myrosehill.com. Plans have been set for another tour on Saturday, April 28, 2012. This time, the tour will highlight General Robert E. Lee's Maryland campaign of 150 years ago. Stops are scheduled at Harpers Ferry, the site of a working dairy farm where the house was constructed from the bricks of the destroyed U.S. Arsenal, the site where General Jackson's troops crossed the Potomac in Maryland in 1862 and Lee crossed on the way to Gettysburg a year later and finally, the battlefield at Sharpsburg/Antietam, site of the bloodiest one-day battle in U.S. history. After coffee and donuts, the bus tour leaves the Franconia Museum at 8:15 a.m. and visits the site of a nearby Civil War skirmish before setting out for the battles along the Potomac in 1852 and a tour of the unique house called Alta Vista that rose from the rubble of Harpers Ferry. The cost is $100, and includes the bus, all entrance fees, an all-you-can eat buffet lunch in Martinsburg, W. VA and a McDonald's snack card to spend in Leesburg on the way home. Contact Don Hakenson at 703-971-4984 to sign up for the tour. There is additional information at myrosehill.com, franconiamuseum.org, and on page 10 of The Rambler.

A Sesquicentennial Report About A Private's Long March

Carl Sell was a sportswriter and editor for the Washington, D.C. Star newspaper. He also spent 15 years as the Director of Sports Information at George Mason University. A former member of the Fairfax County Planning Commission and chairman of the Fairfax County Park Authority, he also has written two books and numerous articles for the Franconia Museum and currently is working on a book on the history of the Franconia Volunteer Fire Department. His mother grew up in Chatham, VA, and is one of 13 grandchildren of the subject of the book.

This book about his great grandfather in the Civil War is on sale either by contacting the author at sellcarl@aol.com or 703-971-4716. It also can be purchased on line at franconiamuseum.org. Go to the Museum web site, click on items for sale and use Pay Pal to buy the book. The price is $26.25, including tax. Add $5 for shipping and handling. The book also is on sale at the Franconia Museum in Franconia, VA and the Pittsylvania Historical Society in Chatham, VA. Each organization receives a portion of its sales.

BOTH SIDES TOUR VIII
Civil War Sesquicentennial Event
Lee's Maryland Campaign of 150 Years Ago

Visit the site of Stonewall Jackson's bombardment that aided in the fall of Harpers Ferry. See a current residence that was constructed from the bricks of the destroyed United States Arsenal two years after the war. Spend the afternoon at Sharpsburg/ Antietam, where Union and Confederate forces clashed on the bloodiest day in U.S. military history. View all stages of the battle starting with the initial Union charge, the carnage at Bloody Lane, the standoff at Burnside Bridge and the arrival of troops on the right flank that saved the Confederates from total defeat after the Union breakthrough.

Saturday, April 28, 2012
Sponsored by the Franconia Museum

Start the day at 8 a.m. with coffee, and donuts at the Franconia Museum, 6121 Franconia Road. Board a comfortable rest-room equipped motor coach for the trip to a local historic site and then head west to Harpers Ferry to visit Schoolhouse Ridge and historic Alta Vista, now the site of the restored house and a working dairy farm. Enjoy lunch at Ryan's Buffet in Martinsburg, West Virginia, and then head for Sharpsburg/ Antietam in Maryland. Hear vignettes about the war along the way.

SPECIAL ADDED ATTRACTION

After lunch, we'll stop at a little-known site in Williamsport, Maryland, where Jackson crossed the Potomac River en route to Harpers Ferry, then Lee crossed both on his way to Gettysburg and his retreat back to Virginia the following year. The site is along the C&O Canal and only a very short walk from the bus!

COST: $100.00 Each. Includes Bus Ride, Buffet Lunch (including gratuity) and a Snack Card to spend on the way home, as well as all entrance fees.

At Alta Vista, you'll meet a modern-day family that helps produce the milk you buy at the store. Learn how the milk gets from the cows to your table. Hear about the original building and current restoration of the house.
