Transfigured

Change. Generally and on principle I'm against it. Whenever the coffee table is moved in the house, my shins are sore for a week. I was used to where it was, not where it is. My office chair is the same one I've had for over thirty years and was used when I got it. It fits me, and though I am sometimes asked, I don't want another one. The trouble with this attitude is that my posture towards change can be limiting and certainly precludes improvement. You remember Albert Einstein's famous quote, "Insanity is doing the same thing over and over again and expecting different results."

That's why it is important to stop and pause as we worship this Sunday and remember that Jesus was transfigured before three of his disciples. To the apostles, the scene would be reminiscent of Moses on Sinai, receiving the commandments. However, it was more than that. Jesus is changed. He's not new and improved - he's different. In that moment, Jesus becomes the resplendent image of God.

I sometimes think that our disappointment with our faith is not that it does too little but that we don't ask enough. Faith isn't a weight loss program; it's not a self-improvement exercise. Faith isn't for looking better around the edges. The result of faith is not you on steroids. The goal of faith, in fact, is for you to look more like Jesus than yourself. In other words, faith changes you.

You are invited to begin that change this Sunday with transfiguration, and then the Lenten forty-day season begins on Ash Wednesday. We will have several observances, all of them with one goal: that we would be more like Jesus.

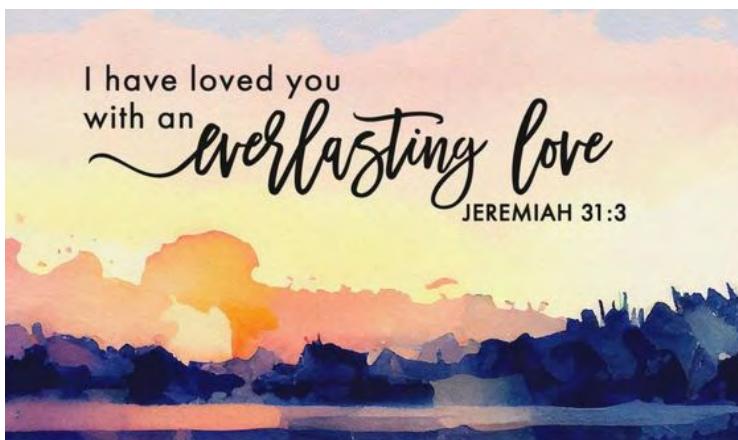

I'll see you Sunday,

OUR WEEKLY BREAD

"I have loved thee with an everlasting love..."

- Jeremiah 31:3

No human experience can fully illustrate the imputed righteousness of God, as conceived by His infinite love. It is a mystery - incomprehensible and inexplicable. Like the mystery of the sun's heat and light, we cannot measure it or explain it, and yet we could not live without it. Writing of the mystery of completed righteousness, Paul said, "We speak the wisdom of God in a mystery, even the hidden wisdom, which God ordained before the world unto our glory...but as it is written, Eye hath not seen, nor ear heard, neither have entered into the heart of man, the things which God hath prepared for them that love Him" (1 Corinthians 2:7, 9). What God has wrought in us is wonderful. But His work has just begun. He has a wonderful, exciting, thrilling future for all of His believing children.

My finite mind cannot grasp all there is in store for those of us who love You, but this does not take away the joy and expectation all Your love has prepared-everlastingly! Amen.

TRANSFIGURATION SUNDAY

Transfiguration Sunday is a significant event in the Methodist tradition, marking the transition between the season of Epiphany and the season of Lent. It is a day of reflection and worship, where the congregation is invited to experience the divine glory revealed to Jesus and the disciples on the mountaintop. The day is often associated with the Transfiguration of Jesus, where he is revealed as the eternal Son of God, filled with the Spirit's light, and surrounded by Moses and Elijah. This event is a reminder of the importance of recognizing God's presence in our daily lives and the call to live in accordance with His glory.
