WEEKLY UPDATE

Sam & Katie's Story

With Valentine's Day upcoming, we had our leader Katie VanBockel and her husband Sam share their story of how they met and what God has taught them about romantic relationships over the years. Culture and media give us a certain expectation about falling in love, but God's desire and plan for us usually looks much different and takes a lot more work to maintain! Thankfully, He gives us the grace for ourselves and each other that we need if we ask.
