THIS LESSON STICK
WITH YOUR KIDS

THIS WEEK'S LESSON:

5 Simple Ways to Make This Week's Lesson Stick

IN THE CAR:

King Belshazzar and his banquet guests witnessed an unseen hand, writing figures on the wall. The king's wise men tried to skate around the fact that they did not understand the writing. Only Daniel knew what the figures meant. God's message to the king was not a good one.

HANGING OUT:

When was a time that you've done something out of your comfort zone?
How did that situation turn out?

AT DINNER:

What do you do when you don't know the answer to something?
What are some things you can do to get an answer?
Who is someone you know who is really good at trusting God?

AT BEDTIME:

"He sets people free and saves them. He does miraculous signs and wonders. He does them in the heavens and on the earth. He has saved Daniel from the power of the lions." Daniel 6:27 (NIRV)

PARENT TIME:

One of the hardest parts of parenting is the abundance of paradoxes. We want our kids to be independent thinkers, yet we want them to trust and obey us, and, even more so, God. We want them to have confidence, yet we want them to be humble enough to realize that their way of thinking isn't always right, and that sometimes God knows better. We teach our kids not to put themselves in compromising situations, yet sometimes that's exactly where God calls us. So, how do we approach such issues? By not leaning on our own understanding and trusting in God!
