

SEPT. 2024

JENN MORLA

MISSIONARY TO THE DOMINICAN REPUBLIC

WE ARE...LAS PALMAS

My summers normally consist of lots of work to prepare for the upcoming school year (creating schedules, meeting with teachers, updating curriculum maps, etc.). This summer was a little different since I had Chloe and I was excited to be back on campus every day at the beginning of September.

During the summer, updates were made around the campus. One exciting update is a roof over our basketball court. This will allow students to have physical education in shade and to continue with classes when it is raining.

I am continuing to serve as the elementary coordinator. I have 17 teachers that I get the privilege of leading. We have 221 students in the elementary.

MORLA FAMILY UPDATE

Since my last update, we have added a new family member. Chloe Nichole was born on June 17. We did not suspect any problems with her health but quickly learned she had pneumonia the day she was born. This required a week in the NICU. We are thankful she is thriving. She is such a happy baby and very content (except in her car seat).

At the last minute we made a decision to enroll Hannah in K3 at Las Palmas. She loves coming to the school with mommy every day.

VISIT TO THE STATES

In February of 2024, Jean Carlos received his tourist visa to the USA. We are excited to take our first family trip in December of 2024. We are hoping to visit West Virginia and spend Christmas with my family there. Please pray with us that we will have the finances we need for that trip.

PRAYER REQUESTS

- Salvation of students and their parents
- Financial needs (as a family and at Las Palmas)
- Wisdom as we raise Hannah and Chloe

The cover for our court will be completed very soon.

First elementary chapel of the school year.

The theme for this school year is “More of Jesus, less of me.” This is a wonderful reminder of why we serve at Las Palmas. We want our students, teachers, and staff to make everything 100% about Jesus.
