2. His death paid the ultimate and adequate price for all our sins for all time.
3. His resurrection is the proof of the efficacy of His death.
4. Even a despicable persecutor of the Body of Christ can be an object of God's all-sufficient grace.

Applications Anyone? (Making it personal)

1. Is Christ the foundation on which I stand?
2. Have I accepted His death as the ultimate and adequate price for all my sins for all time?
3. Do I accept His resurrection as the proof of the efficacy of His having paid the price for my sins?
4. Do I truly believe anyone, including me, can be forgiven by God?
5. Is God's grace empowering me in a way that is visible to others? If not, why not?
