Dr. Horton, The Bible and Science Guy as he is also known, holds a BA in biology from Dickinson State College (University) in Dickinson, North Dakota. He earned a doctorate in veterinary medicine from Iowa State University in Ames, Iowa and a Masters of Divinity from Moody Theological Seminary in Chicago, Illinois.

Dr. Horton practiced veterinary medicine on both large and small animals in the Bitterroot Valley of Montana for 20 years. During the last five years of veterinary practice he answered God’s call to church leadership and established two churches in the Valley. He served Crossroads Christian Fellowship of Victor, MT as senior pastor for 20 years. He began as the full-time Executive Director of IBA in the spring of 2018.

Mark Armunrud

Mark has enjoyed two careers: teaching at Bible colleges and designing advanced software. He taught classes in Genesis, Science and Origins, Astronomy, Bible, and worship at various Bible colleges. In his other career he designed and developed lending and compliance software for financial institutions that are widely used today. Mark was able to retire early when he sold his software company, Bridger Systems, and then spent much time researching specific areas where science and scripture disagree. This included a multi-year project of understanding and translating Genesis chapters one and two.

Mark loves the Bible, God’s word, and he loves science, God’s world. His passions are to understand and obey the Bible accurately and to advance science into new areas of technology that seem impossible today. Mark is a controversial researcher because he challenges common interpretations of the creation account that are not accurate. He also challenges accepted scientific theories which are based on false assumptions and provides evidences that they need to be corrected. Mark earned a B.S. in mathematics from MSU Billings, a M.S. in engineering from MSU Bozeman, and a M.C.M. in worship and theology from Western Seminary. Mark is happily married to Debra who organizes and runs a wonderful church library. They have three grown children. Two teach math and science and one is a librarian. They also have three wonderful grandchildren.
