CODY MOORE
Student Pastor

Hello Northside family and friends. I hope that you are having a great week. On Friday I will walk into a surgery room, and then from there I don't know what will take place. That sounds crazy, and a lot of people would be worried sick about this, but it is strange how at peace I am with whatever takes place. Matthew 6:34 comes to mind when I talk about worry... "So don't worry about tomorrow, for tomorrow will bring its own worries. Today's trouble is enough for today." I cannot worry about tomorrow, because it will not bring any comfort for me today. I can be faithful today to what God has called me to do, and that is it.

So... what do we need at this point? I am not very sure. We know what all the options are and we have planned as much as possible for what is next, but when we leave Friday it will be all good. I ask that you all keep praying for us as I recover and know that I will be back as soon as possible. Our student ministry is in good hands and plans are in place to make sure that everyone knows when and where things are supposed to happen. So, thank you for loving me and my family as we have been faithfully struggling through this whole foot thing. God has been teaching us so much, and I hope that we have been faithful and positive role models as we have been facing everything.

Keep praying and being faithful. We know that God is always faithful, we may not know why we are going through what we are, but He knows. Thank you church, we love you all.
