THOUGHTS ON THE JOURNEY

One would have to look far and long to find a move of God that was not preceded by and bathed in prayer and fasting. In some ways, the discipline of fasting is a mystery.

“Fasting is something God intends for us to practice”

Why does it work? What is happening when I fast? Why does God seem to move in response to fasting? There are so many questions that we cannot answer, yet it remains that fasting is something God intends for us to practice.

Beyond the foundational questions of the how and why, I also get asked questions like: Isn’t fasting an Old Testament practice? Why haven’t

I heard a pastor teach on fasting before? Why has fasting not been stressed to me in my spiritual journey? I have no real answer to such questions. However, just because we did not fully understand fasting before, that does not mean we cannot adjust our paths now.

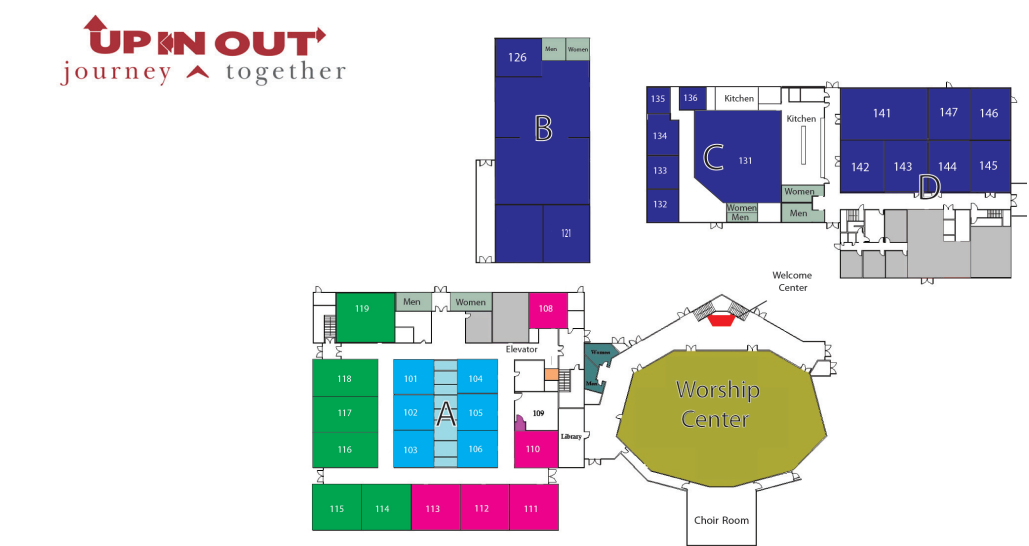

As many of you know, today begins our 21-Days of Prayer and Fasting for our nation. With another presidential election in front of us and considering the condition of our nation, it is appropriate that we turn to God for help. In no way is this fast intended to be political. This is not a time for me to pray that my favorite candidate wins. It is a time for me to pray that God would move in this nation, that He would humble us, that we would repent, and that healing would come to our land (2 Chron 7:14).

It is not for us to prescribe your fast. You must choose based on how God is leading you. Maybe you want to do an absolute fast, drinking water only. Maybe you want to fast certain days of the week (this will be my approach). Maybe you want to do something like a Daniel fast, where you eat only fruits and vegetables for 21 days. Whatever the case, please join us as we go before God on behalf of our nation... asking Him to move, asking Him to bring an awakening to the land, asking Him to bring revival to the church.

Honored to be your pastor,
