Calvary Baptist Church is located in the heart of downtown Tupelo, MS. With small groups, local missions, mission trips abroad, and special events throughout the year, there are many opportunities for all ages to COME TOGETHER to connect, serve, grow, and go with us — for the glory of the Lord! We invite you to join us in worship!

GOD IS GOOD!

You've heard it said, "God is good all the time, and all the time, God is good." This statement is full of truth. God IS good, and He IS good all the time. Psalm 118:1 says, "Oh, give thanks to the Lord, for He is good! For His mercy endures forever." Everywhere you turn in life, you can see the goodness of God. God's goodness is in the valleys and on the mountaintops. God's goodness is in every plan in between. God's goodness is not based on circumstances; it is based on His character. Since the Lord does not change, He has been good, and He will always be good.

In this first edition, of the new quarterly Calvary Caller, it was evident the theme would be the "Goodness of God." In the following pages, you will read about some of the different ministries and opportunities that showcase and testify of the goodness of God. As Calvary continues to strive to Come, Serve, and Go Together, we lean on His goodness. When life gets tough, when schedules get hectic, when both changes and transitions take place, we take a breath and remind ourselves of His goodness. The greatest evidence of His goodness is the giving of eternal life through His Son, Jesus Christ. He gives forgiveness for sin and an opportunity to experience eternal life; He gives us His Spirit and a church family to call home; He gives us the opportunity to grow in our walk with Jesus and the privilege to worship and honor His name. He IS Good!!!

You have a place at Calvary. You are needed and valued at Calvary. Whether through a smiling face, a much needed prayer, or an encouraging word, the goodness of God is running all through Calvary. God has been good, God is good, and God will always be good.

Keeping Our Eyes on Jesus,

Bro. John Boler

CELEBRATING THE GOODNESS OF GOD

IN WORSHIP MINISTRY

MARK MATHIS

Psalm 34 says, "Oh, taste and see that the Lord is good." In every corner of Calvary's worship ministry, from the harmonious voices of the choir to the resonating power of the orchestra, we see the unmistakable hand of God at work. His goodness is the unifying thread that binds us together, inspiring us to offer our best in worship, both individually and corporately. Through every rehearsal, every song, and every moment of worship, we experience the transformative presence of God. When reflecting on the past year, Judd Wilson said that the highlight of 2024 for our choir and orchestra was the culmination of our Night of Christmas Worship. He went on to say, "The scripture says to 'make a joyful noise.' (Psalm 100:1) A lot of people think 'I can't do choir because I don't feel like I can sing or I don't have the voice for it,' but really, you'd be surprised if you just give it a shot because it's a way that you can bless the Lord and lift His praises through song. We really look at ourselves in the choir as worship leaders — that's not just one person, that's all of us, and you can be a worship leader right up there with us. I highly encourage you to do that."

THE IMPACT OF WORSHIP
Worship is more than music; it's a lifestyle that draws us closer to God and equips us to reflect His love to the world. This truth comes alive as individuals dedicate their talents to glorify Him. As Ray Jones, a renowned Worship Leader and Founder of Radiance Ministries, once said, "When God's people sing, walls come down, hearts are healed, and the atmosphere of worship changes lives." We've seen this firsthand — how worship not only touches our hearts but how God uses it to break chains that bring healing and freedom. I am in awe when God speaks to the hearts of our congregation and individuals one at a time begin to stand or raise their hands in obedience to what is being heard. This is true worship.

"Worship is the intersection where heaven meets earth, and everyone has a role to play in that divine moment."

UNITY IN DIVERSITY

One of the greatest blessings to witness within the worship ministry is the diverse talents, skill levels, backgrounds, and individual testimonies that span across the multiple generations that come together to create something beautiful. John Bolin, Pastor of Worship Ministries at King-land Baptist in Katy, TX, described it wonderfully: "Worship is the intersection where heaven meets earth, and everyone has a role to play in that divine moment." At Calvary, this is evident as each voice and instrument add a unique layer to the tapestry of worship, reminding us that we are stronger together.

GENERATIONAL WORSHIP: LEGACY OF PRAISE

The worship ministry extends beyond the adult choirs and orchestras to include vibrant kids' choirs, youth choirs, and a dynamic youth praise band. These younger generations bring a fresh energy and perspective to our worship, embodying the joy and enthusiasm of serving the Lord. Ray Jones reminds us, "The heart of worship is passed down through generations when we invite young people to join the song." In our kids' choir, we see the seeds of faith being planted as children learn to praise God with their voices on both Wednesday nights and Sunday mornings and with the culmination of their Christmas musical. The youth choir and praise band take that passion a step further, expressing their faith in creative and powerful ways that resonate with their peers and inspire both the youth group and the entire congregation. At the other end of the generational spectrum, our senior adult choir, the Singin' Saints, exemplify the enduring power of worship. These faithful servants continue to glorify God with their voices, demonstrating that worship is a lifelong calling. Through their ministry, they inspire younger generations with their steadfast faith and love for the Lord. Dr. Jim Whitmire, former longtime Minister of Music at Bellevue Baptist, Memphis and current Worship Leader at Crossroads Baptist, Eads, TN, said it best: "When generations worship together, the church experiences the fullness of God's design for His people."

GOD'S FAITHFULNESS IN GROWTH

My family and I have been deeply moved by God's never-ending faithfulness as He has guided us to Calvary. I've been inspired as I've witness His continued faithfulness in building upon the rich legacy of the music ministry, a foundation laid by the dedication of so many faithful servants. Members have joined, fresh opportunities to serve have arisen, and the impact of our worship has reached beyond the church walls. Mike Harland, former Director of Lifeway Music and current Founder of Worship Essentials, once said, "The songs we sing today are the testimonies of tomorrow." This resonates deeply within us as we see God's goodness in our worship to sow seeds of hope and faith.

MEDIA MINISTRY: AMPLIFYING THE GOSPEL

Another form of worship at Calvary, renowned for its enduring legacy of service to our community, is our Media Ministry. God is moving powerfully through this ministry which plays a vital role in the areas of sound, lighting, videography, photography, and so much more. Under the leadership of Director of Media, Joe Gilley, this ministry has embraced its mission to enhance our worship experience and extend our reach beyond the church walls. I once heard someone say, "A church media ministry is a powerful tool to amplify the Gospel message, reaching beyond the walls of the building and into the digital spaces where people are already spending their time, allowing us to share the light of Christ in the modern world." Excited about the possibilities of what God is doing as our media ministry continues to grow, Joe stated, "I am super excited about the potential in our media ministry! Over the years, Calvary has been known for investing a lot of time and energy into our media and I am grateful for the opportunity to continue that and to build on it. As technology has changed, there is an ever-increasing number of tools that we can use to aid in worship and set the environment for people to encounter God and see His name lifted high. That is our single, solitary goal as a media team and although God has given us an amazing team to help facilitate that, we will be adding a handful of new teams to assist in these areas and will need a lot more help. Please pray about how God would use you in the creative vision here at Calvary."

A GLIMPSE OF THE FUTURE

As we look ahead, we are filled with great anticipation for what God will continue to do. We trust His leading and remain committed to creating a worship environment where His goodness is celebrated, and His presence known. Every note played, every word we sing, and every heart touched is a testament to His greatness! Together, as a worship ministry, encompassing all ages and generations, we stand in awe of what He has done and look forward with hope to all He will accomplish through us. Let us continue to lean into His goodness, knowing that He is the one who orchestrates every melody and writes every story. 🕊️

"True worship is not just a moment; it's a movement that transforms the heart of the church."

COMPELLED BY... JESUS

JASON MARSHALL

The definition of the word compelled, according to dictionary.com, is as follows: “forced or driven to a particular course of action, often by an irresistible internal urge.” I really love that! It demonstrates so well that which occurs within the heart and soul of a believer. This Holy Spirit’s prompting within us is why we raise our hands during a worship service, why tears stream down our face during a particular song, testimony, or scripture reading; why we must serve others, share about our Lord, and give our resources to bring about the change that comes along with being a child of the King! We desire to see the same compelling of the Spirit in others that is within us.

If there has been a time you have accepted Jesus as the risen Savior and asked Him for forgiveness of your sins, then you are a child of God. As His children, we read His instructions in the Bible. Our desire, as we study and grow in our relationship with the Father, should be to imitate Jesus. As we imitate, we will be compelled to share our faith with others and we will be compelled, drawn, to serve according to the gifts God has blessed us with.

Last year was an incredible example of that. Many from our church gave of their time as we sent out 36 individuals to serve on short term mission teams in Amory, MS; Medford, OR; Yreka, CA; Malawi, Africa; and Pedernales, Dominican Republic. We had over 100 members serve through Compelled By Love projects: ministering to church members with needs at their homes, visiting and writing letters to guests and shut-ins, and completing maintenance projects at the church; through our Community Breakfast; and a number of other opportunities. Countless of you served by providing resources that were requested and by providing financial gifts to support our mission efforts. THANK YOU for following the leadership of the Holy Spirit!

In this upcoming year, we have trips scheduled to New Orleans, LA; Yreka, CA; and Malawi, Africa. Our Compelled By Love projects begin on the first Sunday night of each month from March through October, and there are a multitude of other opportunities to serve in every ministry area of our church! In the gospel of Luke, Jesus shared the Parable of the Great Feast. Within the parable, He talked about inviting others to be a part. Chapter 14 verse 23 in the NLT states, “Go out into the country lanes and behind the hedges and urge anyone you find to come, so that the house will be full.” This is our desire! We want the house to be full! Not just the house at Calvary, but the house in New Orleans, Yreka, Malawi, and the ends of the earth. Sunday school classes, mission teams, choir/orchestra and media ministries, children’s/student ministry volunteers, etc.; ALL have a place for your gifts to be used. What is it that our Father is compelling you to be a part of?

PRAYER FOR THE EMPTY CHAIR

JOHN BOLER

Do you want your Sunday school class to grow?

Do you desire for your class to reach new people to fellowship together, pray together, study the Word together, and serve together?

Here is a simple, but effective, way to grow your Sunday school class. Choose an empty chair in your Sunday school room. At the conclusion of each class, have the members circle around this chair and pray for the Lord to fill that chair with an individual. The Lord will hear your prayer. As the Lord works, He can send new guests to your class. When they arrive, you can remind those new guests that you have been praying for them. There is power in prayer. Pray together and see what the Lord can do.

Here is a sample prayer:

Lord, in the name of Jesus Christ, we bow before you today in honor and adoration to You as our Lord and our Savior. We humbly pray that you would fill this chair with an individual who will be part of this Sunday school class. Fill this chair with an individual who will be drawn to You to grow and become a Disciple of Jesus. We ask, Lord, that you hear our prayer, and honor our request for Your Glory and Honor only. In the precious name of Jesus, we pray, AMEN.

HOLY GROUND ...AND POTATO SALAD

HANNAH WILLIAMS

If you had told me 3 months ago that I would have a 'Holy Ground' moment while up to my elbows in an industrial-sized bowl of potato salad, I probably would have laughed. But such is the nature of our God who creates, who calls, who provides, who laughs: continually offering an invitation to join Him in the work He is doing.

Michael came in from church one evening after attending a mission trip interest meeting. In his hand he held, not one, but two, applications. "I hope you'll go with me." The multitude of complexities of both of us leaving our children and flying over the sea for a mission trip sandwiched snugly between Thanksgiving and Christmas seemed mind-boggling. I consented to at least praying about it. Throwing fear to the wind and gripping my fragile faith with all my might, I asked the Lord for three clear "Go's," if He indeed wanted me to go. Boy, did He deliver. Through a sermon, a devotional reading, and a scripture passage, He clearly articulated what I was hesitant to hear. "Go."

We landed in Santo Domingo on a warm, sunny Saturday afternoon, overpacked and prayed up. I was prepared for mosquitoes, heat, and sunburn, and fully equipped for a myriad of dress codes. What I was not prepared for was the literal breath-taking beauty of miles and miles of virgin coastline, waters bluer than a crayon, and portrait-quality palm trees arched perfectly over the horizon. Our 70's style white van, equipped with vinyl seats and fringed drapes, flew down the highway, and I decided it was in the better interest of my mental health to *not* watch the road and on-coming traffic; I watched the inspiring landscape instead. I snapped a ridiculous number of pictures trying to capture the views that felt nearly fake, so staggering was their beauty. Every curve brought a new perspective and apparently a gasp from me. (Gasps from the views and the traffic were equal in quantity!) Every scene of creation directed my thoughts to Genesis 1, "And God saw that it was good."

Take a picture of this QR Code and click it to see a short video from the Worship Services described.

The road got rougher, and our van, which I affectionately and prayerfully referred to as the REAL struggle bus, sent us nearly airborne in our seats as it overcame ruts, rocks, and uneven terrain. We eased into a town and replacing the palm trees, rocks, and waves was an even greater aspect of creation: faces — old and lined, young and full, some creased with worry, many dusty and smiling. Humanity and weakness housing the very image of God. “And God saw that it was very good.” Gen. 1:31

Over the course of the week, we were privileged to greet many faces. On Sunday evening, we worshipped with a Haitian congregation. Their singing was bold and loud, with a variety of instruments — some homemade. Their singing expanded over an hour, and instead of waning in strength and volume, their voices crescendoed in praise! Their fervor and stamina in worship was convicting.

Humanity and weakness housing the very image of God

We ultimately worked with three different churches (two with Haitian congregations, one with Dominican) doing door-to-door evangelism, giving rice and beans, and aiding in Christmas dinners for the local children at each church. You’ll not meet a more hospitable people. At one point, this was evidenced by an elderly lady who was sweeping the street in front of her home when she paused her work to offer us coffee.

During our door-to-door evangelism, many made decisions for Christ, while some heard the gospel and declined. These evangelistic conversations took place on rocky paths, under trees, on the street, and inside homes that resembled hovels.

Prayers were offered for every consenting person we encountered, whether for healing, provision, protection, or strength in their Christian journey. Once, while mid-prayer for a family whose mother had unexpectedly died in childbirth, her four-day-old baby was placed in my arms. Another ministry opportunity involved a conversation between Kim and a woman saved out of a life of Vodou. Her family is devout and is constantly urging her to return. She plainly stated that she’d rather die than to return to that life. Shannon and I gave our best healthcare advice to a mother with a sick child. Out of all the glaring personal needs she could’ve mentioned, one woman asked Michael to pray for political peace between the striving nations of Haiti and Dominican Republic. Jeanne and Jason talked some time with a professing atheist who seemed suspiciously hungry for something more. All of these conversations and moments of prayer were heavy with need, but buoyed by hope, not unlike labor pains: excruciating, but promising new life. John 16:21

What a joy it was to follow through with Jesus’ mandate (Matthew 28) to go and tell, knowing He was with us every dusty step of the way! “Lo, I am with you always” could be broadened to I am in you, for you, directing you, speaking to you, speaking **through** you. Now that we are home, I read it as “Lo, I AM” -the Lord Almighty- Yahweh, the God who puts His flame in desert bushes (Exodus 3), to draw us aside off our routine path and comfortable route so that we can hear His voice and respond to His call. I’m so thankful I heard the “Go.” I’m so thankful He can use a tired, weak, Mississippi mama to share the glory of the Gospel. I’m so grateful that while crouching in the sticks over a huge pot of boiled potatoes and eggs I could serve with my Haitian sisters — who couldn’t understand a word we said. We nodded and smiled and pantomimed and worked willingly with our hands. And as we prepared food for hungry children, and paced paper plates up a Rocky path and into waiting hands, Jesus was there. What a foretaste of a bountiful feast to come, when we will see many of those same faces. Where languages won’t separate. Where we will join our voices in praise on literal Holy Ground. 🙏
