Dear fellow laborers in Christ,

November 7, 2022

Happy Harvest Season!! The fall season is probably my favorite season. The leaves are changing, the weather is cooler, the deer are moving and it's football time in Tennessee! I really enjoy watching college football! Go Vols! I enjoy watching my team play and rooting them on as they battle it out on the field. As much as I enjoy watching football being played, I would much rather put on some pads and a helmet and play myself. There is absolutely no comparison of the two. I would rather be a participant than a spectator. I'm so glad that God didn't call us to be spectators but participants in His work! We get to serve on God's team and on God's team everyone plays!

We have had great opportunity to participate in the work of God this last month. We have had several things go on at the church with several families visiting. One family in particular was invited by the newest members of GBC. They had so much anxiety about coming to our church because of past experiences. IM SO GLAD THEY CAME! It was a joy to see them participate in the singing and respond to the preaching. Both of them came in very unsure but left smiling and thankful that they came to church on Sunday. Please pray that God would allow us to continue to minister to this sweet family! There are others, just like this family, who need Jesus and the life-changing message of the Gospel!

I have the opportunity to work with three German ladies at the Landstuhl Elementary School (School for military children). None of these ladies know Jesus as their Savior. They have each expressed their contempt for religion and all things that involve church. This is widely due to the practices of the Catholic religion. Because of this, any talk about things concerning the Bible or Jesus is immediately dismissed. They link it all back to the Catholic religion and their past experiences. I do believe that it gets easier each time to begin the conversation. Each time we get a little further and closer to the Gospel. Please pray that God would continue to work on the hearts of these ladies. It would be wonderful to see each of them call on Jesus to be the Lord of their life!

As you already know, our church has been in need of getting chairs for our auditorium to replace the mismatched and unreliable ones that we currently have. I am excited to announce that CHAIRS HAVE BEEN ORDERED! God used several churches to provide the funds necessary to purchase these chairs. Our folks are super excited and are already talking about God filling all the chairs up with people. One young man asked me "Pastor, what happens if we fill all these chairs and others are still coming?" It is a joy to have folks who are not satisfied with "just us" but others to come to know Jesus and be part of what God is doing at Grace Baptist Church. We are so grateful for how God used others to provide a need here in Germany.

One thing that is special about the work of God and world missions is that it isn't a "one man show." I'm so thankful that God has used each of you to partner with our family financially, prayerfully, and lovingly to see the Gospel make its way around the world and into the hearts of our U.S. military. Please continue to pray that God would empower us to be His mouthpiece of His Gospel for His glory! We love you all!

For His Glory,

The Kitchen Family
