Friday, December 11, 2015, is a day that I will remember for the rest of my life. I was in the parking lot of a restaurant while my wife and three boys had just walked inside to place their orders. While walking into the restaurant, I received a call from a surgeon who had performed an outpatient procedure on me four days earlier. He proceeded to tell me that the pathology report of the biopsy came back as a form of lymphoma. He was very kind, but assured me that I would need to follow up with an oncologist and begin the discussion of “chemical treatment.” Needless to say, I was stunned. I can still remember thanking him for his call and walking into the restaurant and telling my wife of the surgeon’s call. I attempted to repeat the conversation with her in such a way as not to let our boys know what was going on.

Perhaps you are reading this booklet in response to a similar type of phone call. If so, my heart goes out to you. The good news is that we have a Heavenly Father who is a very present help in our time of need. The Holy Spirit is our Comforter and Jesus Christ is our Healer. He has gone before us and has already made provision for our healing.

My story continues with a PET Scan, CT Scan and a bone marrow biopsy. Everything that I went through was a deepening experience. Even though God did not send the storm, He invaded the storm. I was reminded of James 1:2 “Count it all joy, my brothers, when you meet trials of various kinds.” I found that in the Greek the word “trial” meant a “test with a beneficial outcome.” By God’s grace, I was determined that this test would have a beneficial outcome in my life. Instead of simply being focused upon “How do I get out of this?” my focus shifted to “What can I get out of this?” I wanted the trial to be for “God’s Glory and my good.” Seeing God’s faithfulness time and time again during this season only served to deepen my love for Him, my love for others who are in similar battles and my love for my wife and family. Through the six rounds of chemo, God’s Word was my anchor. It kept me from drifting into fear. The Word of God and the care of my Heavenly Father gave me a strength and comfort that forever changed my life.

During the four months of chemo, I put together these passages of scripture. There were days that I was so weak that my only accomplishment was that I was able to read aloud God’s Word. Faith comes as we hear God’s Word. Keeping my mind renewed to God’s promises was vital to staying out of fear. About midway through my treatment, I sensed the Lord speak something to my heart that changed everything. I sensed him saying, “What are you expecting?” I believe He was encouraging me to “expect” to see answers to the scriptures that I had been quoting. From that point on, more than just reading verses, I would preface the verses by saying, “I am expecting...” Honestly, that small adjustment changed everything. My faith went from being “passive” to being “active.”

It is my prayer that these verses and confessions that held me up during the toughest season of my life will be a resource and an encouragement to you. You can make it. God is with you.

God bless you,
