WEDNESDAY
NIGHTS:

ISRAEL 101 CLASSES

AUG 9

1. The Land Between -(the lay of the land – geography essentials)

AUG 16

2. Stuff You Might Need to Know (practical prep for the tour😊)

AUG 23

3. The Conflict - (history of the Israeli-Palestinian conflict – what's it all about anyway??)

AUG 30

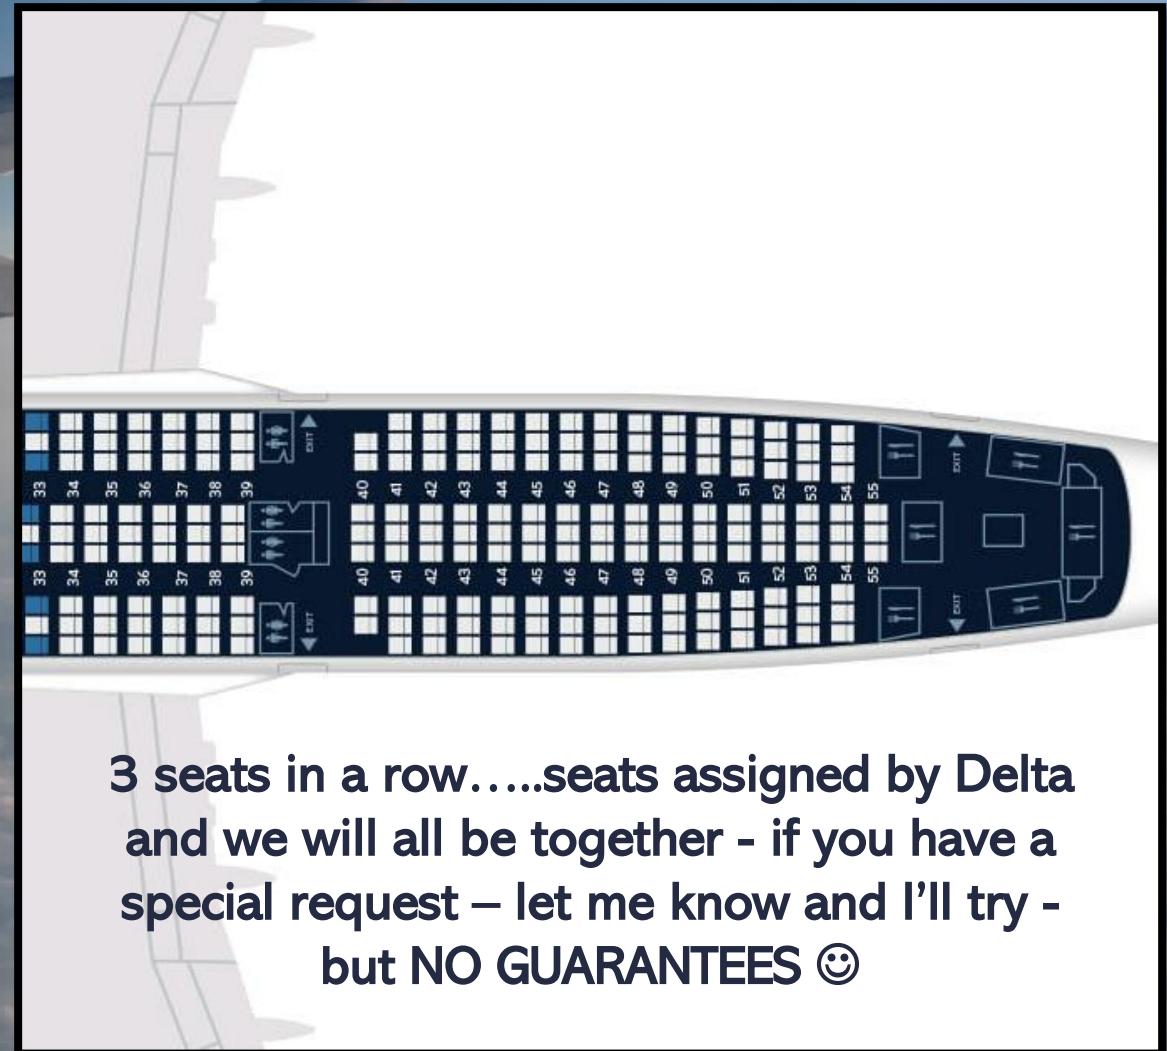

4. The Church's Unholy History
(Replacement Theology and

Classes designed both for all those going on this year's Remnant Tour AND for all who will be standing and praying for us and for Israel...

1. Getting there- what to expect

Flight will be on DELTA
from Savannah to Atlanta to Tel Aviv
(Tel Aviv to JFK to SAV on the return)
Group seated together as much as possible

3 seats in a row....seats assigned by Delta and we will all be together - if you have a special request – let me know and I'll try -
but NO GUARANTEES ☺

Tips for the 10-12 hour flight...

- The long flight over is about 10½ hrs, coming back about 12 hrs
- Wear warm, comfy & stretchy clothes and slip-off shoes. Neck pillow/support definitely recommended! (they do give you small pillow/blanket)
- You'll probably be offered ear plugs, eye mask, and headset to watch the TV/listen to music – but feel free to bring your own.
- Get up and move around at least a couple times on the airplane. Compression socks are helpful if your legs/feet swell when you fly...you might like to try an 'airline footrest' (hangs over your tray table and elevates your feet/legs)
- You'll be given 2 meals on the flight and offered drinks several times.
- No one is allowed to get up the last ½ hr of the flight as we enter Israeli airspace. They'll let you know when it's time to stay seated...

Arrival to Ben Gurion Airport

We will all go through Passport control – will stand in line to show passport to a person OR use a passport scan/facial recognition machine... will be issued a small 'ticket' – which is your entry into the luggage claim area and...

...You'll also be given a small piece of paper that is your tourist visa – keep it with your passport....

We will be bussed from there to our hotel on the Sea of Galilee, seeing glorious sights on the coast along the way...and yes, you'll be a tad tired but even more excited😊

So what about money??

So what's a 'shekel'?? Current exchange rate:

1 shekel = 28 cents

1 dollar = 3.57 ils (shekels)

10 shekels = $2.80

1/10 shekel = 2.8 cents

Shekel notes (paper money)

Israeli New Shekel (₪) Notes

So how do I get some?

- Use a reliable ATM...
(ask first...don't use a freestanding one out in the public – ok at hotels or those installed in bldgs)
- At a money changer (bring and exchange dollar bills for shekel notes – watch the exchange rate)
- Exchange rate currently:
$$$1.00 = 3.6 \text{ Shekels}$$

Electric plugs and stuff...

- First there's a VOLTAGE issue: We always use 110-120V in the USA.
- What is the voltage and frequency in Israel? In Israel the standard voltage is 230V and the frequency is 50 Hz. People from the UK, Europe, Australia and most of Asia and Africa can use all their electric appliances in Israel, because their standard voltage is between 220-240 V - BUT unfortunately a lot of electrical things from the USA CANNOT be used there as is...
- If you were to plug in something in Israel (like a hair appliance) that is only rated for 110-120V you will fry it and kiss it goodbye...It MUST be rated for 220-240V in order to survive in Israel.
- So how do I know??? Look verrrrrrry closely at the small print on your appliance or device. When purchasing, search for a 'dual voltage' feature.
- Btw- generally all cellphones, iphones, ipads and laptops, etc are fine for travel/dual voltage...

So can I take this...?

Btw – your hotels will (likely ☺) provide a hair dryer in the room...

Electric plugs and stuff...

- 2nd, besides the voltage issue, there's a PLUG SHAPE issue: We always use 110-120V in the USA – and our plugs are not the right shape...

- No worries, you'll just need an ADAPTER to help your device (that you've already determined is safe for 220-240V) to fit the plug!
- (Btw – if you really MUST take your favorite hair dryer or whatever and it's not the right voltage you CAN buy a "CONVERTER" to change the voltage for you – these are not cheap but it's doable. Please understand that an ADAPTER simply changes the shape of the plug, but a CONVERTER actually changes the voltage for you – NOT THE SAME!!

Israel plug adapter – type H

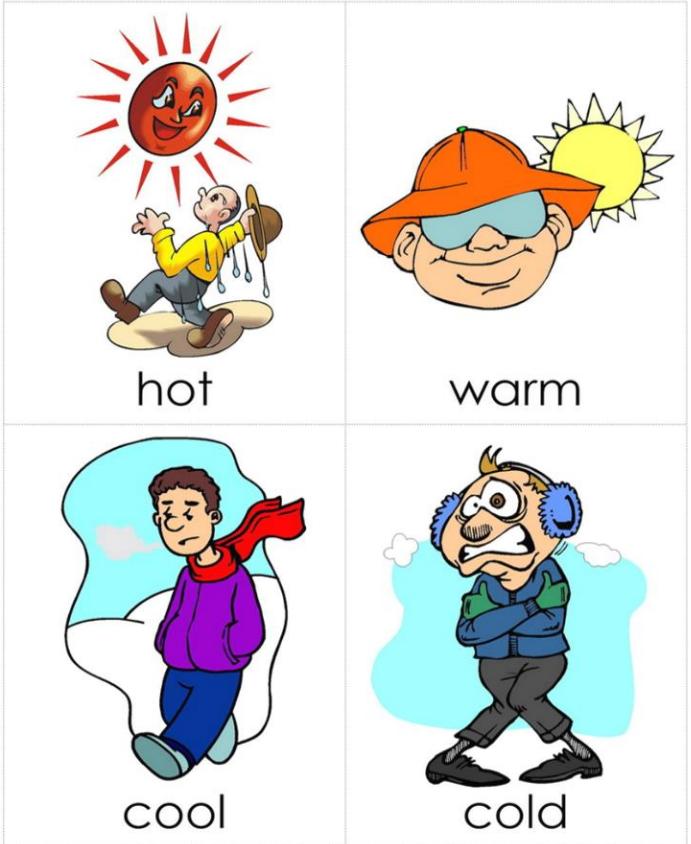

Just go to Amazon and search “Israel Power Adapter”
(2 prong ok for 2 prong devices, 3 prong needed for 3 prong device, some have USB outlets – get what you’ll need ☺)

What about cell phone usage?

- Least expensive way is to rely on Wi-Fi (available at hotels and many restaurants) and use FaceBook Messenger or Whatsapp for free calling and texting. (Whatsapp is very popular in Israel – they all use it...)
Our group may be using Whatsapp while we're over there
– so go ahead and install the app if you don't have it yet...)
- You also can text for free (with Wi-Fi) using imessage from iphone to iphone only
- Can get international plans for 'anywhere' calling/texting– WiFi not required - ie. Verizon Travel Pass -$10/day, AT&T International Day Pass - $10/day. (Remember to tell family that we will be 7 hours ahead of them...so they shouldn't call when you're in bed😊)
- Can get an Israel sim card – temporarily turns your phone into an Israeli phone with an Israeli phone number – phone must be 'unlocked' – prob not very practical for our short trip...
- Again, Wi-Fi should work fine at the hotel and you can get caught up on your FB posts and keep in touch with or call family while there. You'll be given my cellphone number and the tour guide's number which your family can call in case of emergency while we're out and about...

What about the weather?

So what will it be like??

Could be any of these...
(seriously it could!!)

But in general...

- Sunny and warm, possible showers around the Sea of Galilee, and warm at the Dead Sea- might even be hot.
- Sunny OR Cloudy OR Rainy in Jerusalem AND cool in the evenings – need rain gear, light jacket, hoodie, etc.
- In Israel it doesn't rain AT ALL from late Spring until Fall – so we will be there at the transition from the dry season to the rainy season (the rain peaks in late December and January) – so it could go either way.

What clothing to pack?

- Think LAYERS – articles of clothing you can add or remove – t-shirts/hoodies/light jacket, etc. Don't count on access to laundry – so wear jeans a few times, ok to recycle or hand wash clothing – we won't tell😊
- Bathing suit and water shoes for the Dead Sea; shorts and t-shirt fine for baptism in the Jordan (you'll be wearing a white sort-of-see-thru robe); sun hat or visor is recommended for any sunny day...don't forget sunscreen and sunglasses😊
- Dress for comfort, there won't be any 'dress-up' events. Pants/capris fine for women, even longish shorts are fine. Men can wear shorts on warm days if they'd like. Just keep in mind weather can change throughout the day.
- What's the MOST IMPORTANT THING??: comfortable, already-broken-in footwear that covers your toes!! Flip-flops may be comfy, but you risk injuring your toes and that would be BAD. Good sneakers/hiking sandals are best.

Where might we need to be a little more 'modest'?

- At religious sites – churches, western wall – do not expose shoulders, elbows, knees, etc. No low-cut tops for women. Pants are fine.
- Up on the Temple Mount – all of the above PLUS no pro-Israel or religious writing on clothing, no religious or Israeli jewelry – AND you can't bring an obvious Bible up there either.
- Many other sites are 'secular' and you can wear what you like...we will warn you the night before if you will need to be 'modest' the next day. (Good for women to carry a scarf in day bag to cover shoulders if that's easier...)

Packing tips...

- Packing cubes are great organizers – as you go use one of the large cubes to put your folded dirty clothes in –or bring a laundry bag.
- Limited to 50 lbs for check-in luggage (great to have a luggage scale) - and cannot exceed 62 inches (height+length+width)
- Carry-on allowed for overhead bin- especially if you'd like to make sure you have space to bring stuff home in. But it's pretty cumbersome for you to roll 2 bags around airports and hotels so avoid if you can😊. One personal item for beneath seat.
- Definitely plan for a day bag or backpack of some kind – to put in the things you'd like to carry for the day such as: sweater or light jacket, rain poncho or small umbrella, water bottle, external phone charger/battery, journal, etc.

Optional (or not so optional) items...if you're so inclined ☺

- External phone charger and cable to put in daybag
- Small binoculars
- Rain poncho or umbrella
- Selfie-stick or small tripod
- Journal (highly recommended!)
- First aid kit/meds for owies or booboo's
- Extra snacks
- _____ fill in the blank

Tour Group Etiquette (yup there is such a thing)

1. HONOR and RESPECT each other, our tour guide, everyone we meet – (we do represent the USA and above all – we represent Jesus to the Israeli people.)
2. Listen to instructions, be where you're supposed to be (STAY WITH THE GROUP, always have a partner), and BE ON TIME ☺- don't delay the group (when you're with a group you do forego certain freedoms to do your own thing☺)
3. GRACE GRACE GRACE to those we travel with. It's like a family – if something annoys you – take a deep breath & give them GRACE GRACE and more GRACE☺
4. Display the FRUITS of the SPIRIT at all times:
But the fruit of the Spirit is love, joy, peace, forbearance, kindness, goodness, faithfulness, gentleness and self-control (Gal 5:22-23)

What about tips??

- Your tips for the tour guide, bus driver and hotel luggage handlers are already covered in your tour cost. (If you'd like to give extra to bless them, you are welcome to do so at our final dinner together – but this is definitely not required – we will tip them well enough for you).
- Tips at the lunch restaurants you eat at should be paid (unless the tour guide says it's a flat fee) - and in Israel 10-15% is expected and is the norm (yes, it's less than we usually tip in the USA).
- Btw, service at an Israeli restaurant is not always what we are used to – they often don't pay a lot of attention to you and this is considered 'normal'. And they definitely don't bring the check/bill until you flag them down and ask them to ☺

How about offerings??

- There will definitely be opportunities to sow into the land of Israel by giving offerings at various places we visit.
- For example: City of David House of Prayer, Succat Hallel, Tabernacle of David, various guest speakers we will have at the hotels, etc.
- Of course there is NO obligation, but you WILL be blessed as you give. US Dollar bills are welcomed, as well as shekels.

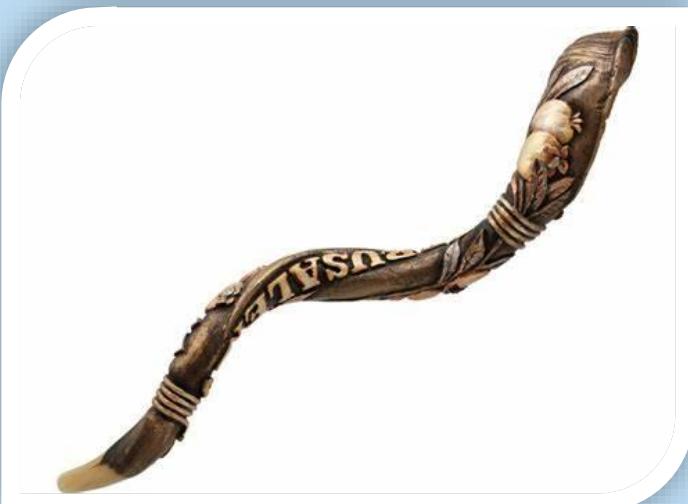

Shop til you Drop...

- We will have opportunities to shop in various places...
- Some ideas of special gifts/items you may want to bring home with you:

Shofar

Menorah

Communion wine fountain

Shop til you Drop...

Jewelry!!! (what woman doesn't love it??) – all types.

But these are very special...

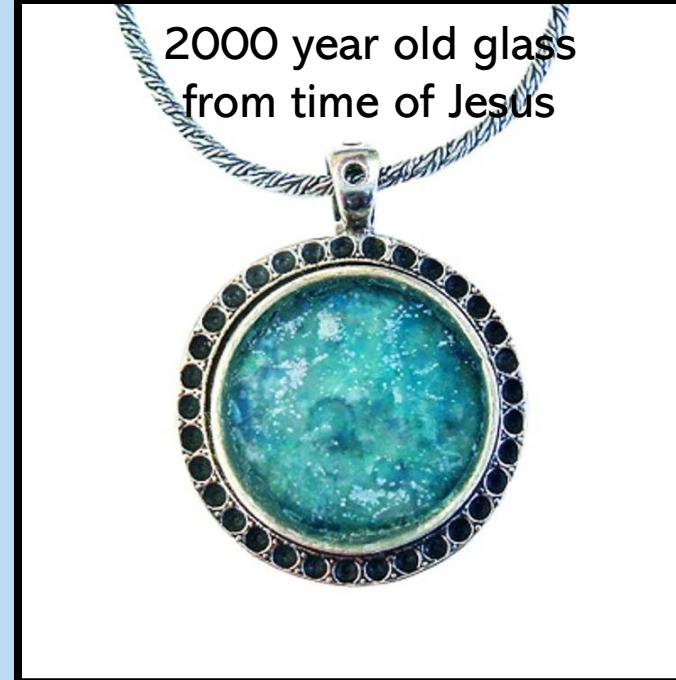

EILAT STONE

National Stone of Israel

ROMAN GLASS

2000 year old glass
from time of Jesus

SILVER/HEBREW

Hebrew writing/Bible verses

Shop til you Drop...

Ancient coins

Olive Wood carvings

Prayer Shawls (Tallits)

Shop til you Drop...

Do I need to barter??

- Sometimes yes, generally no – if you do, offer them about $\frac{1}{2}$ of what they tell you and barter from there. You usually can offer shekels or dollars. Use a calculator if needed.
- This store in the pic (in Christian Quarter of the Old City) – a friend of mine – you do NOT barter – he has good prices up front ☺
- On Ben Yehuda street – possible to barter there – you can always offer less.
- BTW – NEVER go off shopping ALONE (or anywhere else) in the Old City – always have a partner, and do NOT go anywhere with a shopkeeper or a self-proclaimed ‘tour guide’ on foot or in a taxi.

Is Israel Safe?? My friends and family are worried...

- Most locations in Israel are quite safe by American standards. While concentrated areas of terrorism and armed conflict do exist, they will largely be avoidable. Your guide, the authorities, and the local people will make certain that we are made aware of the locations visitors should and should not go to.
- The nation has a remarkably low crime rate, especially compared to American cities, which can be partially attributed to the ongoing conflict with Palestinians. Because of the 70-year conflict, there are ever-present surveillance systems in place as well as multiple heavily militarized zones and security personnel. As long as tourists remain clear of Area "A" in the West Bank and Gaza, they should be very safe.
- We may or may not have armed soldiers board our bus at a checkpoint and glance at our passports. This is routine and is for our safety. Those guns are to protect you, not to frighten you.
- Of course crime is always a potential factor, no matter where in the world you live or travel. So it is always wise to be alert in areas where tourists are expected to congregate. While it is unlikely that tourists will experience direct exposure to serious danger, absolute safety can never be guaranteed anywhere.
- Keep your money/wallet/passport with you and close, offering no open invitations for pick-pocketers. ALWAYS HAVE A PARTNER and STAY WITH THE GROUP. We will all stay very safe by sticking together!!

What's our actual itinerary??

- We'll be first staying 4 nights at the Sea of Galilee, and then 6 nights in Jerusalem and making day trips from there. You'll receive our full daily itinerary when we're on the tour. This itinerary is a 'game plan', and not chiseled in stone😊
- Keep in mind that things are always in a state of flux. Some sites may need to be skipped because of time, weather, or extenuating circumstances. Some sites may not be done in the exact order that's on the itinerary – all at the discretion of the tour guide who always has our best interest in mind.
- There have already been some changes of plan since the brochure was made, as new sites were added after our scouting trip to Israel last December😊
- We pray and trust that every site we visit will be ordained by the LORD, that all our hearts will be impacted and changed by experiencing it, and that the Kingdom of Heaven will be advanced in Israel as we deposit our prayers and worship in each place we go.

What about travel insurance?

- Travel insurance is definitely optional, but is on your own to purchase. Most travelers take their chances without it.
- It IS a good idea to have it, however, as it does reach a point that your trip becomes non-refundable – but if you get ill and can't go the insurance can help you out with a reimbursement. Also helps if you become ill or injured while you're over there (your own health insurance probably won't help you in Israel), or if a medical evacuation is needed, luggage is lost or damaged, etc.
- Recommended: (I've used both and have been happy...)

Who's our tour agency?

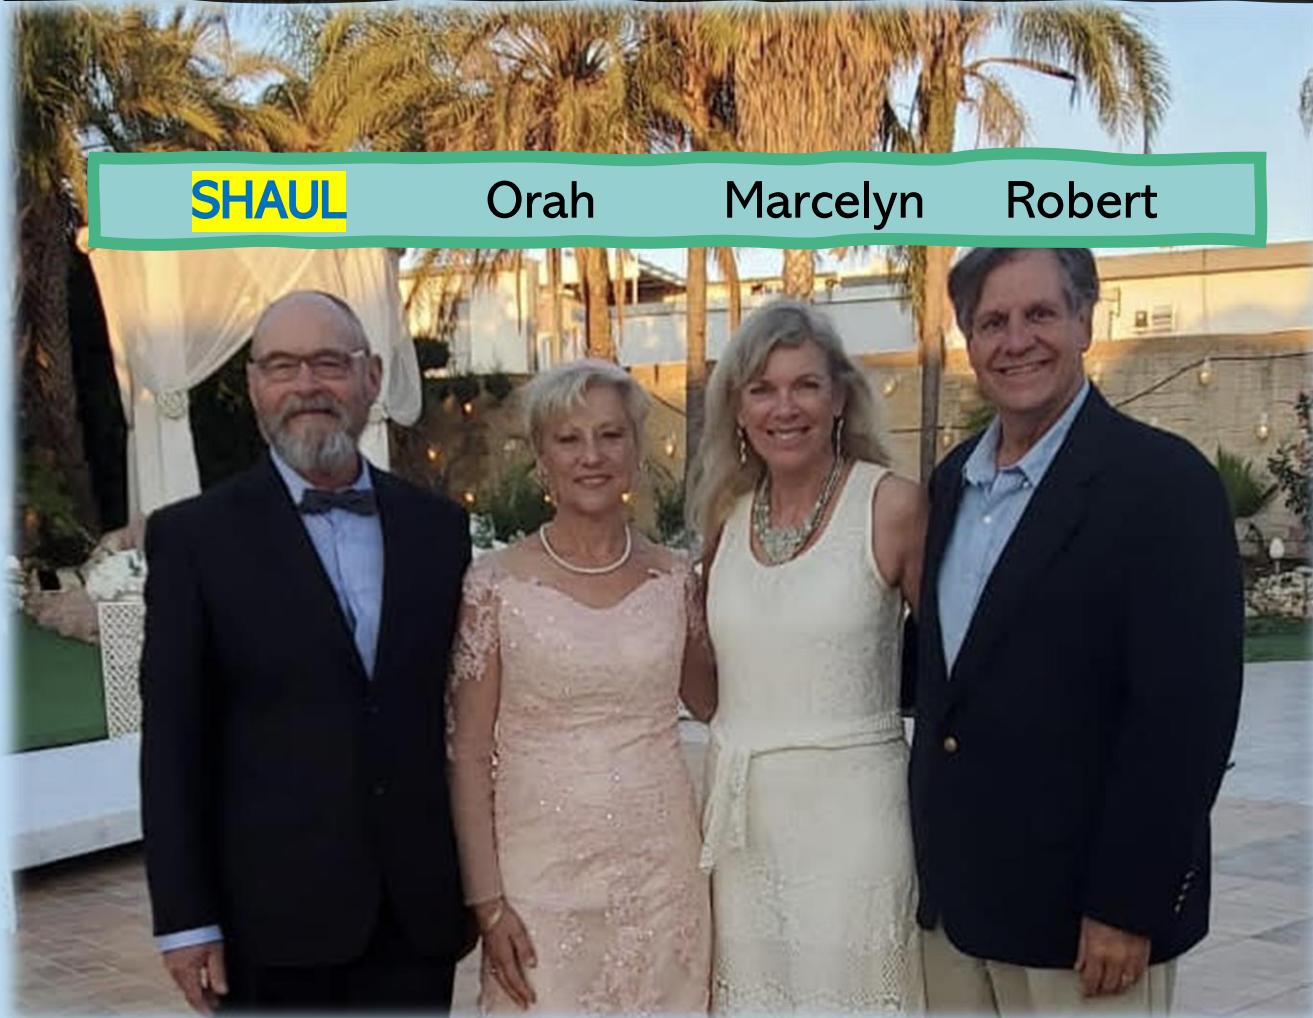

Jerusalem
Eternal
Tours

- My name is Daniel Decker, I am a spirit filled Christian who was born and raised in Israel. Today, I am the Director of Jerusalem Eternal Tours, ("JET").
- Everything started with my late grandfather, Rev. Robert Decker, he has served over 60 years in full time pastoral ministry at Baptist churches throughout New England. He personally brought Christian pilgrims to Israel on a regular basis on more than 20 occasions. Growing up, I would always look forward to spend time with my grandparents as we explored the Holy Land together.
- My father, Pastor David N. Decker, is an Evangelical Christian missionary who has lived in Israel continuously since 1980. He obtained a bachelor degree in Meteorology at the Penn State University and soon after moved to Israel as a devout Christian Zionist, where he raised a family of 5 children. From 1985-1990, my father was employed by Pat Robertson (METV) and became the first meteorologist (weatherman) who has ever broadcasted detailed weather information on the Television in the Middle East.
