

"A Tale That Is Told...."

Psalms 90:9 "For all our days are passed away in thy wrath: we spend our years as a tale that is told."

Looking back upon the lives of God's "heroes" in Hebrews 11 will make a person think of his own life. "Have I accomplished anything worthwhile?" That question has been reflected in the literature of man for centuries. That death is the appointment all must anticipate at some time is an obvious truth (Heb. 9:27). We cannot escape it. But how should we face that truth?

The Apostle Paul faced death with expectation, neither fearful nor seeking it [see Philippians 1:20-24]. Moses himself wrote the following words: "All our days are passed away in thy wrath: we spend our years as a tale that is told. The days of our years are threescore years and ten; and if by reason of strength, they be fourscore years, yet is their strength labor and sorrow; for it is soon cut off, and we fly away" (Psa. 90:9-10).

It makes no difference how rich or powerful a person may be; death awaits us all unless the Lord returns first. Job said death is "the house appointed for all living" (Job 30:23). Even the "miracle" of modern medicine has its limits. Since that is true, rational people will prepare for that time. I'm not talking about pre-arranged funerals but preparing our souls for eternity, for that's where we are headed.

Solomon, wealthy as he was, said: "As he came forth of his mother's womb, naked shall he return to go as he came, and shall take nothing of his labor, which he may carry away in his hand" (Eccl. 5:15). No, our wealth, our fishing boat, our business, our bank account, our golf clubs — all will be left behind!

Conclusion

Isn't it sobering to consider that thousands die in sin every day without obeying the gospel of Christ (2 Thess. 1:8-9)? If that won't sober your thoughts, your heart needs some work.
