

AGM Report - Luke Lissenberg - September 2020

This year has been quite the year for the worship music, production and media ministries. These unique times have forced us to evolve how we do ministry, with the most notable change being the addition of a video production team to our weekly operations. This year we have also prioritized social media ministry with the addition of a social media volunteer team.

As staff for a long time we had our eyes set on prioritizing online ministry, but we never expected God's plan for us this year. We now have our full services being posted online each week in full video/audio format in very good quality, and we're still getting better. We have also been able to post worship videos, sermon clips, and other encouragements to our followers on social media consistently over the last several months.

We have been blessed to have capable individuals step up and serve as volunteer leaders for these teams and they have been training more volunteers in production as we go. We are very grateful for these volunteers that have stepped up and given much of their time so our services could be brought online and our social media presence could be brought to life.

Looking to the future we are thinking about what it looks like to go fully 'live' with our services, as in our services streaming live at 10:00am on Sunday mornings. We want to make sure that watching the service live is a good experience for our guests which is why we have not gone live yet. There are many technicalities to going live so we are currently developing a plan with our goal to launch live online services in 2021.

Thank you for all your support and please pray for us as we continue to spread the good news of Jesus through music and media.
