From Pastor's Pen:

Dear friends in Christ,

As I prepare to retire from full time ministry as your pastor, I find myself reminiscing quite a bit. Sadly, I also experience some grief over witnessing the decline in commitment and participation of our members over the years. Recently, I was looking over pictures of past activities, Bible study and Sunday school classes, and Christmas programs that included so many children. It breaks my heart as it also does God's heart that things have changed so much. In so many ways parents have misplaced their priorities when it comes to the things that benefit their children most. School activities and athletics seem to consistently take priority over church activities and discipleship.

You may have seen the statement, "Your kid has only a 0.0296% chance of being a professional athlete, but a 100% chance of someday standing before Jesus." And yet, as parents, what percentage of our time and resources are we investing into those two scenarios? If you think about how much time and money is invested in things that offer so little return, it is shocking and sad.

I realize that not every parent actually believes their child is going to be a professional athlete. Some are hoping for potential scholarships and others are thinking about their child's fulfillment and development. Still, sacrificing child's fulfillment in Christ and spiritual development for such things is a poor exchange.

Athletic facilities are a great place for developing athletes, and church is a great place for making disciples. So where will the focus be?

Can we do both? Sure, but there seems to be demonic forces at work to make it more difficult. It used to be that recreational sports could take a few hours a week and steered clear of certain times to ensure family and church took priority, but not anymore. The pressure is that your child can't even make the team unless he or she commits to an unreasonable amount of practice, travel, and sacrifice. I know it is worth something, but is it worth what it truly is costing you and your child? Do you really want to use the majority of your child's formative years preparing for what cannot last or bring enduring benefit?

Many children have learned that ball practice is essential, but church involvement is expendable. And the result is that many young people's athletic skills are growing while their faith is shrinking. The day will come when they will no longer have the joy of playing and the price paid may be that the joy of their salvation has been lost, also.

Yes, there is a 100% chance that our children will face Jesus some day and he will not care if they can field a grounder, make a penalty kick, sink a free throw, stick a landing, or surpass the previous record. Is your child ready to meet Him? Does your child know the love and salvation that they have been gifted through Christ? Are they exercising their spiritual muscles in worship and prayer? Is their faith being nourished by Word and the sacrament? Are they wearing the necessary equipment, the full armor of God?

Time is fleeting; the formative years are passing. What are we teaching our children to prioritize and for what are we preparing them? Make my heart, and God's heart, glad. Put church activities and discipleship at the top of your child's list.

In Christ's love,

Pastor Umberger

Deaconess' Desk

Dear Brothers and Sisters,

Summer is here, and with it we witness God's creation blooming all around us. The beauty of God's creation is certainly one of the ways in which people recognize God's hand in this world, but with Father's Day just around the corner, I want to take a moment to reflect on God as our good and gracious Heavenly Father.

In the Apostle's Creed, we confess: "I believe in God the Father Almighty, Maker of Heaven and Earth". In these few words, we identify God not only as the Creator of all things, but also as the paternal figure who holds the world in balance, who cares for His creation, and who sustains life.

Martin Luther says in his Large Catechism exposition of the Apostle's Creed:

"Moreover, we also confess that God the Father has not only given us all that we have and see before our eyes, but daily preserves and defends us against all evil and misfortune, averts all sorts of danger and calamity; and that He does all this out of pure love and goodness, without our merit, as a benevolent Father, who cares for us that no evil befall us... We ought, therefore, daily to practise this article, impress it upon our mind, and to remember it in all that meets our eyes, and in all good that falls to our lot, and wherever we escape from calamity or danger, that it is God who gives and does all these things, that therein we sense and see His Paternal heart and his transcendent love toward us. Thereby the heart would be warmed and kindled to be thankful, and to employ all such good things to the honor and praise of God." (LC II I 17, 23)

What an amazing reality that the Creator of all things is also the One who loves us so perfectly and cares for our every need. He is the perfect example of fatherly goodness for all earthly fathers who would do right by their families. His goodness is also a reminder to us that though earthly fathers certainly make mistakes as sinners in this world, there is abundant grace and mercy to be given. So let us be thankful this month for all the fathers in our lives and especially for our Father in Heaven who continues to be with us.

Blessings to you all in Christ,

Deaconess

Happy Father's Day!

A.D.D.

It is a terrible problem, affecting many more people than maybe you would guess: A.D.D. Yes, I mean Ascension Deficit Disorder. A.D.D. strikes when we imagine that Christ and His blessings are long ago and/or far away. When the world pressures us, we grow troubled. When our sins come crashing back into our minds, we become terrified. Even when loved ones die in the Lord, we might see no end to our grief. In fact, we get stuck on what we see. When our horizon shrinks and it's as if we have hoped in Christ for this life only, it's pitiful. This A.D.D. is a scourge! There is an answer for it, namely, the real ascension of our Lord. "He put all things under his feet and gave him as head over all things to the church, which is his body, the fullness of him who fills all in all" (Eph. 1:22-23). Celebrate Christ's ascension on May 29!

Ministry Readiness Study Report

The Lutheran Church Extension Fund—Missouri Synod, has recently completed a Ministry Readiness study for CID, to determine the District's capacity to undertake a financial campaign.

Stewardship

LCMS Stewardship Ministry – lcms.org/stewardship Newsletter Article – June 2025

Rooted in Christ, Growing in Stewardship

The heartland is now awash in various hues of green. The doldrums of winter give way to the colors of spring. Now, the promise of spring gives way to the growth of summer. Fields are planted and sprouted. Gardens are planted. Flowers adorn the beds of neighborhood homes and roadside ditches. Green is the shade of life!

Green growth is also the hue of the faithful steward. The seed of faith planted in human hearts in the waters of Holy Baptism grows as it is nurtured in the Word proclaimed and ingested in the Holy Supper. This faith does indeed save. But our stewardship of the Gospel is also designed to bear fruit for God's glory and the benefit of our neighbor.

To consider this, let us look at the hymn, "Fruitful Trees, the Spirits Sowing" (LSB 691). It is very much a stewardship hymn!

Fruitful trees, the Spirit's sowing, May we ripen and increase, Fruit to life eternal growing, rich in love and joy and peace.

- The tree of faith is not planted in us by us. It is the Spirit's work! We do not claim the title "steward." Rather, we are created for it (Gen. 1:26–28).

- He is the One who makes it grow in us. The fruits of the Spirit are borne out because we, by grace through faith, are connected to the vine that is Jesus (John 15).

Laden branches freely bearing Gifts the Giver loves to bless; Here is fruit that grows by sharing, Patience, kindness, gentleness.

- Our stewardship is NOT about what we do. It is about what the Holy Spirit does in and through us. That is the fruit that we bear. His fruit for His purposes.

- But that fruit is lived out through us. The world sees the fruit of our stewardship of the Gospel in lives lived connected to Word and Sacrament.

Rooted deep in Christ our Master, Christ our pattern and our goal, Teach us, as the years fly faster, Goodness, faith, and self-control.

- Stewards have been created and redeemed to reflect the image of Jesus in the world. He is the pattern. We reflect to others around us the Light of the Gospel He has shone on us.

- This reflection comes when Christ's goodness flows from us to others.

Fruitful trees, the Spirit's tending, May we grow till harvests cease; Till we taste, in life unending, Heaven's love and joy and peace.

- Just as the Spirit has created us for stewardship of the Gospel, so also does He cause our faithfulness! He calls, gathers, enlightens, sanctifies and KEEPS us in this faithful stewardship of the Gospel.

- The ultimate goal of our faithful stewardship is eternity. For us. For our neighbor. All worked out by the Spirit.

Green is the color of the world right now. It is also the color of our stewardship and it is growing in us as we are connected to the vine, Jesus! God grant our growth in Him!

Notes from the Balcony

The U.S. certainly has experienced its share of severe storms this spring. The National Weather Service has reported over 960 tornadoes so far this year, with over 60 fatalities. Drone photos of flattened houses and annihilated buildings remind me of the destruction we witnessed in Washington, IL, a number of years ago, when several St. John's members went as a LERT team to lend aid to families in this community. Observing the first floor of a house completely wiped clean with debris of all sorts scattered far and wide was certainly a sobering sight, to say the least.

While these meteorological storms merit our responsiveness, storms of a spiritual nature are also a part of our earthly life. Struggles in families, work, finances, and health are just a few potentially stormy areas. Where do we seek shelter in the midst of such storms? Psalm 18:2 has the answer,

"The Lord is my rock and my fortress and my deliverer, my God, my rock, in whom I take refuge."

One of our member's favorite hymns identifies Christ as "the solid Rock on which I stand, all other ground is sinking sand." My Hope is Built on Nothing Less (LSB 575) was written by the London-born Baptist minister Edward Mote (1797-1874). He was the son of pub owners and originally trained as a cabinet maker. He became a minister at the age of 55.

Stanza 1 directs our attention to seek shelter with the only true shelter in the time of storms.

1. My hope is built on nothing less than Jesus' blood and righteousness; I dare not trust the sweetest frame, but wholly lean on Jesus' name.

Refrain:

On Christ, the solid Rock, I stand:
all other ground is sinking sand;
all other ground is sinking sand.

Stanza 2 points us to the unchanging One who holds us fast even though we can't see Him.

2. When darkness veils his lovely face, I rest on his unchanging grace; in every high and stormy gale, my anchor holds within the veil. [Refrain]

Stanza 3 presents God's promise as hope in otherwise hopeless situations.

3. His oath, his covenant, his blood, support me in the whelming flood; when all around my soul gives way, he then is all my hope and stay. [Refrain]

Stanza 4 transports us to our final destination beyond earthly storms.

4. When he shall come with trumpet sound, O may I then in him be found: dressed in his righteousness alone, faultless to stand before the throne. [Refrain]

May God keep you safe in all types of storms, physical and spiritual. And praise God, He offers Himself as our solid rock where we can seek shelter until that glorious day when we stand before His throne.

In Christ's protection,

Christine Engebrecht
