TODAY

Shaped by Each Other Summer Series

9:30 a.m. Fellowship Hall and on Zoom

Each Sunday this summer we are engaging our relationship with God by learning about the way other traditions practice their faith. We have enjoyed excellent leadership and conversation from leaders in the Muslim, Ba'hai, Buddhist, and other faiths.

Next Sunday, July 31 at 9:30 a.m. in the Fellowship Hall and on Zoom, we will hear from Katie Cornwell and Sven Bader who will share their personal experience of learning about how Christianity is practiced in international communities and how this learning in turn impacted their faith. Enjoy a light breakfast and fellowship while learning about how God meets us and how we are all shaped by each other.

Small groups are welcome to anyone and everyone. Our conversation will be based off two books "Why Are All the Black Kids Sitting Together in the Cafeteria?" or "To All the White Friends I Couldn't Keep."
