Prayer needs to be ingrained into our identity.

A close-up photograph of a person's hands clasped in prayer, resting on the fore-edge of a thick, old book, likely a Bible. The hands are positioned on the right side of the frame, with fingers interlaced. The book's pages are aged and yellowed. The background is dark and out of focus, showing a person's torso in a light-colored garment. The overall mood is solemn and contemplative.

Sometimes the battle in front of us causes us to forget the war we are really fighting.

A close-up photograph of a person's hands clasped in prayer, resting on the fore-edge of a thick, old book, likely a Bible. The hands are positioned in the upper right quadrant of the frame. The book's pages are aged and yellowed. The background is dark and out of focus, with a warm, brownish light source creating a soft glow on the hands and the book. The overall mood is contemplative and solemn.

Thus, we hope in, are desperate for,
and depend on the wrong thing.

Praying “in the Spirit” is being led by the Holy Spirit to pray according to God’s truth and for the will of our Lord.
